SEDITION CASE STRIKES SNAG

Trial of 30 Halted Till Wednesday by Contempt Proceeding.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—A contempt of court proceeding against a defense attorney today halted until Wednesday the trial to 30 persons accused of seditious conspiracy. Then it will be necessary to start all over with the selection of a jury.

Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher, presiding at the trial in federal district court, said developments made it impossible to impanel a jury before midnight, expiration date for the present jury panels.

Accordingly, Eicher announced that the trial, which entered its third week today, will start all over again.

The defense lawyer who must "show cause" why he sould not be held in contempt is James J. Laughlin of Washington. Eicher sent this proceeding to another judge for a hearing tomorrow.

During the brief Laughlin proceedings, another attorney, Maximilian St. George of Chicago, was fined $20 for contempt of court.

St. George had described the Laughlin contempt citation as a "vicious attempt to intimidate counsel" and Eicher ordered him to be seated.

When St. George continued to speak, the justice calmly remarked: "Mr. St. George, you are fined $20 for contempt of court."

The court's pronouncement quieted the courtroom, which a moment before had seen several defenses attorneys on their feet, all trying to speak at the same time.

O. John Rogge and Joseph W. Burns, government prosecutors, obtained the citation against Laughlin on the ground that his ew U. S. Station in England Tells Occupied Nations Invasion Is Near

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 1—The Allies' pre-invasion nerve war received fresh impetus today from a new U S broadcasting station in Britain which launched its operations yesterday by telling the people of occupied Europe great allied armies will be coming to their aid ere long "from the west and south."

"This first blow, to be struck in cooperation with Russian forces attacking from the east, will show the Germans what overwhelming force can be" and "will end forever the shameful chapter of Nazi tyranny," the broadcast declared.

Delivered by Robert L. Sherwood, director of the office of war information's overseas operations, the initial message from the U. S. station—known as "ABSIE"—urged underground workers throughout Europe to hold themselves in readiness for the signal to strike in concert with the allied armies of liberation.

"Until then be cautious, be discreet," Sherwood said. "Your lives are valuable to the allied cause. Your gallant services will be needed for the hard fighting that must be done * * *

"Listen to the allied radio for word that will come from the supreme commanders, Gen. Eisenhower in the west and Gen. (Sir Henry Maitland) Wilson in the south. Do not be tricked into premature action by Nazi lies or deception."

Technical experts said the Germans made desperate efforts to "jam" the air and prevent disruption of the broadcast in Europe, but asserted the attempts at interference were not very successful.

The broadcast obviously was part of a campaign intended to give the Germans the "invasion jitters"—a malady not unknown on this side of the English channel where the strain of waiting for "D-Day" is imposing a heavy burden on nerves already worn by more than four years of conflict

Invasion Prayer Services in Marion Churches Proposed

In some cities in various parts of the country, movements have been launched and arrangements completed for churches to be thrown open and church bells rung immediately upon the receipt of news that the invasion of Europe has been started.

This would be the signal for immediate prayer services in the churches for the success of the invasion.

The suggestion has been made that clergymen and other church officials in Marion join this movement.

The Star gives the proposal hearty indorsement and hopes immediate steps may be taken to complete arrangements for such demonstration in Marion.

Burial Honors Paid Sec. Knox

Military Rites Held at Arlington: Memorial Services on Ships.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—Frank Knox, secretary of the Navy, was laid to rest on the rolling slopes of Arlington National cemetery today while U. S. Navy men around the world hold memorial services for "the boss."

Only exceptions were on the ships that at 1400—Navy term for 2 p. m., Eastern War Time—are in actual battle with the enemy, or carrying out emergency missions.

In the British and Canadian fleets, as well, all flags fly at half-mast on orders from the admiralty in mourning for the man who sparked the program that gave the United States the mightiest navy in world history.

Replete with pageantry and traditional rites, the service for Knox, who died Friday from recurrent heart attacks, began in a little church where he had worshipped since becoming secretary of the navy in July, 1940.

There, an old friend and neighbor, who lived near the Knox home in Manchester, N. H., where the late secretary once published a newspaper, conducted the religious rites. He is Dr. Fred S Buschmeyer, pastor of the Mount Pleasant Congregational church.

Body bearers — the military term for active pall bearers—represented the three branches of the naval service, four each from the

NEW STATE HIGHWAY PATROL HEAD NAMED

George Mingle Promoted from Post of Inspector.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1 — Inspector George Mingle of Columbus today was named superintendent of the state highway patrol, succeeding Col. Lynn Black, who died last week.

Highway Director Hal G Sours, in announcing the appointment, said it followed the patrol's policy of line promotions based on rank and qualification.

Mingle, 45 years old, joined the patrol as a patrolman in 1933 and rose through the ranks to major inspector, to which he was appointed three years ago. For the last two years he has been in charge of organization and development of the patrol's auxiliary, composed chiefly of members of the American Legion.

"Mr. Mingle is a well-trained and qualified police officer who also has had successful administrative experience," Sours remarked. "In his appointment the policy of the line promotion has been adhered to."

Mingle, a native of Mt. Vernon, was employed by an engineer's crew of the highway department before joining the patrol.

He was made a lieutenant of the patrol in 1934 only a year after joining, and then promoted to captain in 1935. Six years later he was named major inspector, the patrol's highest rank below superintendent.

He is married and has one son, George, who is in the army air forces.

Circus Takes Tricks To Sick Room at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, May 1—Unable to leave the house because of illness, Johnny Willacker, small son of Mr. and Mrs. F. R Willacker, had the circus brought to him Friday when Mills Brothers show appeared here. Two of the circus clowns and Chaplain Waddell went to the Willacker home and presented their stock of stunts for the sick boy and left their autographs as a memento.

Mrs. Willacker, mother of the boy, is the former Emelyn Von Kaenel, daughter of John Von Kaenel of East Center street in Marion.

STALIN CALLS FOR KNOCKOUT

May Day Message Says Simultaneous 2-Way Blows Must Hit Germany.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 1 — Premier Marshal Joseph Stalin, in a May day pronouncement, today declared the Red army and the Allied armed forces must launch simultaneous onslaughts from east and west to finish off "the wounded German beast * * * in his own den."

"There can be no doubt that only a combined blow such as this will be able finally to crush Hitlerite Germany," Stalin declared in a broadcast order of the day which praised the allies for their "considerable contribution" to past Russian successes.

Stalin said, "Under the blows of the Red army, the bloc of Fascist states is cracking and tumbling down" and exhorted the peoples of Romania, Hungary, Finland and Bulgaria to "take the matter of their liberation" from the German yoke into their own hands."

The Red Army's task cannot be limited to throwing the Germans out of Russian soil, he declared. "A wounded beast who has gone into his lair does not cease to be a dangerous one."

Stalin said American and British troops "are holding the front against the Germans in Italy and are diverting a considerable part of the German forces from us. They supply us with very valuable strategic raw materials and armaments and subject to systematic bombing military objectives in Germany, thus undermining the military power of the latter."

He asserted, however, that the Red army's successes would have been obliterated after the first serious Axis counterblow if the troops "had not been supported from the rear by the whole of our Soviet people and by all our country."

Stalin said it was difficult to count on the governments of the Nazi satellite countries to break with Germany.

President Expected To Rest for Another Week

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—President Roosevelt's doctors are anxious that he not leave his vacation place in the south until "he has really completed his rest," Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt told her press conference today.

The first lady, who reported the President looked very well when she saw him one day last week, said it probably would be "a week or so" before the President considers returning to Washington.

The President has been at an undisclosed location south of here as part of a recuperation program following attacks of flu and bronchial complications earlier in the year.

Marion Baseball Opener Tuesday

Marion's new baseball team in the Ohio State League will make its debut Tuesday night at 6, playing Lima in Lincoln park.

Manager Grover Hartley is busy today making his squad selections from a total of 41 players on hand yesterday to bid for playing positions.

Several hundred Marion residents were at the park yesterday to see a practice game.

Details of these and other preparations for the league opener appear on today's sports pages.

National Attention Centers on Tomorrow's Florida Primary

By The Associated Press

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., May 1 — National attention—attracting tests and issues worthy of half-dozen state elections come up for decision tomorrow in one—Florida's red-hot Democratic primary.

On the record, the balloting will decide Democratic nominees for one U. S. Senate seat, all six congressional places, 18 Democratic national convention delegates, governor, and all major state offices.

But underneath the statistics, these prime factors turn up to dominate a picture that has almost everything:

1. It will be the first primary contest matching candidates for Democratic national convention seats who are pledged to a fourth term against a slate pledged to Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia. Of the 9 convention delegate candidates over the state, 27 favor FDR outright and four are unpledged. A full slate of 18 is running pledged to the senator from Virginia, though (as in the case of Mr. Roosevelt) without his approval.

2. It will be a direct though not necessarily conclusive test of New Deal and fourth term strength in a key southern state as of today. Senator Claude Pepper, seeking renomination, is an arch-New Dealer from 'way back. He has four opponents. To win outright tomorrow, a candidate must obtain more than 50 per cent of the total vote. Unless someone achieves this margin, the two candidates obtaining the highest number will fight it out in a run-off May 23. Few expect Pepper to fail to get at least enough to take him into a run-off. It will be a major New Deal setback if he runs farther back than second.

3. It will be the first southern Democratic primary — along with Alabama's, likewise scheduled Tuesday — since the supreme court's decision holding Texas Negroes may vote in a Democratic primary there, party rules or no. Florida's Democratic party rules against Negroes voting in the primary has not been changed. Negroes say they will attempt to vote in two or three districts Tuesday. If prevented, an appeal to the courts is expected to follow.

4. It will be the first election in the nation which has found a candidate for state office running on a pledge to help put over a constitutional amendment that would abolish the closed shop. The candidate in question is Attorney General J. Tom Watson. His slogan is: "Reelect the candidate who is fighting for the right to work—and vote in the general election next November for the amendment to our state constitution which abolishes closed shops but preserves collective bargaining by unions."

Same As Election

In Florida, "nomination on the Democratic ticket is tantamount to election," as they put it down here. The Republicans have only a few primary contests, the state being overwhelmingly and traditionally Democratic. With the exception of Herbert Hoover in 1928, Florida hasn't voted for a Republican for president since reconstruction days.

Senator Pepper, who has made as many as a dozen speeches a day, says much of his opposition comes from "Republicrats." He defines these as Republicans who have registered Democratic to get in a lick at the New Deal.

MISSISSIPPI ON DAMAGE SPREE

11,000 Fight To Hold Levees Threatened in Illinois and Missouri.

By The Associated Press

Swollen to its highest levels in 100 years, the raging Mississippi river swept safely past St Louis but continued spreading destruction today as one of its tributaries, the Illinois, continued tearing at earthen levees.

Forecasts of showers throughout the watersheds of the two streams led authorities to call for additional help to battle the rivers, bringing to over 11,000 the number fighting to hold the levees in Illinois and Missouri. The U. S. army district engineer's office at St. Louis reported that Dupo, where a large portion of the freight yards was under water, and Preston, on the Mississippi, and Clear creek and McGee creek levees were in critical danger today.

The coast guard cutter Greenbrier was ordered upstream from Cape Girardeau, Mo., to assist in evacuation work at Hanging Dog Island, 10 miles below grand tower. The coast guard previously evacuated all 600 residents of Valmeyer, Ill.

The total acreage inundated by the Mississippi and the two tributaries, the Illinois and Missouri, in the latest tabulation by the Red Cross was 1,212,000. Levees were being broken and overtopped in so many places it is difficult to keep figures up to date.

One thousand soldiers were trapped when the Harrisonville, Ill., levee went out but timely evacuation by army engineer and coast guard boats prevented loss of life. The levee at Chouteau, further upstream, also went out.

A casualty of the Illinois river was a drawn span of the bridge at Beardstown which was wrecked when it was struck by a large boat apparently out of control.

Marion Lecture-Recital Club Wins Top State Award for Press Book

Highest honors in the press book competition were won by the Marion Lecture-Recital club in the closing business session of the 26th Annual State Convention of the Ohio Federation of Music clubs, Friday afternoon in the Deshler Wallick Hotel in Columbus. The prize winning book was compiled by Mrs. Leroy Schneider, publicity chairman of the local club, and the award was presented to her by B. E. Kelley, press chairman of the state federation.

Awards in this section are based on the complete coverage of the work of a club, the feature and promotion stories, and coverage of service work done by the club. The Marion club received high ratings on all of these points and additional points were given for the featured music column. Second honors were won by the Opera Club of Columbus.

This made the second award for the senior club during this year's convention. The first was the gavel presented to the Marion club for highest place in club rating on Thursday. Both awards were received for the first time by the local club.

Officers Selected

At the closing session of the convention the results of the election of officers were announced. The new state officers are as follows: Mrs. Freeman T. Eagleson of Columbus, president; Miss Etelka Evans of Cincinnati, first vice president, Mrs. Herbert Holcher of Westerville, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Ramsdell of Middletown, third vice president; Mrs. J. F. Jones of Toledo, secretary; Miss Virginia Castoe of Columbus, treasurer and Mrs. Francis B. Kortheuer of Cleveland, parliamentarian.

On Saturday, following the state convention, the Junior Juvenile Competitive Music Festival was held. Representatives from both the Marion junior and juvenile groups received high ratings in this festival.

GREATEST AIR CAMPAIGN IN ITS 17TH DAY

Blast by 1,500 Planes Follows RAF Night Assault on Vital Nazi Targets.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, May 1 — Fifteen hundred or more allied planes struck at Nazi installations and rail lines in France and Belgium today in the 17th day of the pre-invasion air offensive, spearheaded by a heavy bomber assault upon secret targets in northern France.

Up to 500 heavy bombers and as many escorting fighters delivered the main blow without losing a single plane, and then U. S. Marauders followed up with raids on railyards in both France and Belgium feeding the German Atlantic wall defenses.

Separate fleets of RAF mediums bombed railway objectives in France, and Mustang and Thunderbolts hit the yards at Namur and Haine St. Pierre in Belgium.

The daylight attacks followed an RAF heavy bomber night raid exploding an ammunition dump at Maintenon, 37 miles southwest of Paris, and hammering two more rail points in France.

(At 5 p. m. today the German radio said "single planes are over western Germany." The broadcast was recorded by U. S. government monitors in New York.)

The U. S. heavy bombers roared out early over the channel.

As the American planes roared out from their British bases they carried history's greatest sustained aerial campaign into its 17th straight day.

The British night blow followed close on the heels of the blasting which 3,000 Allied planes delivered yesterday against German anti-invasion targets in France.

Targets of the RAF's railroad-busters, who wound up two straight months of almost continual hammering at junctions on lines supplying Nazi forces crouching behind Hitler's Atlantic wall, were Achiets near Paris and Somain, a coal-field town south of Lille near the Belgian border.

An air ministry communique said one British plane was missing. The war bulletin described the attacks as heavy and well concentrated. British planes also struck unannounced objectives in western Germany and laid mines in enemy waters.

Genoa Under Attack

At Allied headquarters in Naples it was announced today that Allied bombers blasted the big port of Genoa for the third straight night last night after a fleet of more than 500 heavy bombers rained explosives on the Milan railyards and other targets in northern Italy. The night bombers also blasted targets in the west coast Italian port of Lavorno (Leghorn) and struck at Monfalcone, near the Adriatic port of Trieste. Twelve enemy planes were destroyed against a low of five Allied craft, the bulletin said.

Somain also was hit yesterday by American Marauders and Havocs during dawn-to-dusk assaults on a variety of targets vital to the Germans' anti-invasion preparations, including at least eight railyards in northern and central France.

The night blows brought to 60 the number of attacks made by day and night throughout March and April by American and British raiders against at least 39 different rail junctions, most of them in France.

The campaign to knock out rail lines carrying anti-invasion supplies to the west began March 2 with a daylight attack on Amiens by American Marauders.

Counting today British-based planes of the U. S. army air forces have been over the continent 100 of the 122 days of 1944 and the RAF has pounded enemy targets 91 nights.

Start at Dawn

The American planes began streaming across the southeast English coast soon after dawn and the channel skies were filled throughout the forenoon.

IMPROVED VARIETIES BOOST CROP YIELDS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1 — Improved varieties of crops, giving higher yields because they are resistant to diseases, have made rapid headway in popularity with farmers during recent years, the department of agriculture pointed out today. The higher yielding grains have come at the right time—when the country needs all the grains it can get.

Most highly publicized improvement of recent years has been the introduction of hybrid corn, now very widely used in the main corn producing area. In 1943 hybrid corn was grown on 52 per cent of the country's total corn acreage and on more than 99 per cent of the acreage in Iowa, the nation's greatest corn producing state.

Last year's corn crop totaled 3,076,000,000 bushels, second largest on record. The third largest crop, 3,071,000,000 bushels, was grown in 1920. The 1943 crop was grown on 94,799,000 acres, and that of 1920 on 101,360,000 acres. "In other words," the department said, "in 1943 we used 6,750,000 acres less land to grow about the same crop production in 1920. The higher yield was attributed to hybrid corn.

Thatcher wheat, resistant to stem rust, is on the way out, the department asserted. In 1939 it was grown on nearly 15,000,000 acres in the United States and Canada, but its leaves did not resist leaf rust. Two new varieties, Rival and Pilot, outyielded the famous Thatcher 7 to 10 bushels an acre in leaf rust years.

The department said, "the breeding of improved barley varieties with smooth awns has made this crop more popular with farmers." Formerly, varieties with coarse, barbed awns caused mouth sores of livestock, reducing the value of barley as a livestock feed. The department said about 40 per cent of the present barley acreage is planted to smooth awned varieties.

Oats varieties also have been improved, and in Iowa last year about 60 per cent of the oats acreage produced the new varieties and in Wisconsin about 50 per cent. About one-fifth of the total national acreage was planted to the new varieties last year.

Rye is an exception to the general trend. "Little progress," the department said, "has been made in developing new, improved varieties of this crop."

3 HARDING SENIORS ON NAVY V-12 ROLL

Sworn in After Rating Highest in Special Tests.

Three members of the Harding High school Senior class were sworn into the U. S. Naval Reserve, Class V-12, at the Navy Recruiting and Induction station in Columbus last week and are now on inactive duty awaiting call for training. The calls will come following their graduation from high school on June 2.

They are:

Charles Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Elliott of 264 South State street; Robert Taylor, son of Mrs. Ruby Taylor of 443 East Farming street; Thomas Trafzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trafzer of 480 McKinley Place.

The three, each 17 years of age, are members of the High school National Honor society. Elliott is a student in Harding's college preparatory course, Taylor the general course and Trafzer the vocational course.

They were selected for the Navy V-12 class on the basis of having received the three highest ratings in an examination of High school Senior boys conducted March 15 at the Harding High school building by the Navy's officer procurement service. Thirty-eight applicants took the examination. Later they passed the physical examination at the office of Naval Officer Procurement in Cleveland.

After High school graduation they will be assigned to a college for basic training and following that will be enrolled in college courses for specialized training. Upon successful completion of these courses they will receive commissions as Navy ensigns. All chose engineering for their specialized courses.

Air Medal Awarded Marionites' Grandson

Staff Sergeant William M. Macklin, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jones of Ruth avenue, has by direction of the president been awarded the air medal, Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been informed. The citation relating to this award states, "For exceptionally meritorious achievement, while participating in five separate bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Continental Europe."

Since Sgt. Macklin is now a prisoner of war, the award will be presented to his mother, Mrs. Chas. J. Macklin of near Delaware, at Fort Hayes, Columbus, in the near future.

Bob Hope Receives Radio "Oscar," Peabody Award

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—A special citation was made to Bob Hope today by the board in charge of the George Foster Peabody awards, radios equivalent of the "Oscars" given in the movie industry.

The announcement reads: "In recognition of Bob Hope's untiring zeal and high level of entertainment of his camp tours in the United States and throughout the world."

CBS ranked first in five of the seven classifications. Edward R. Murrow, head of their London office, was acknowledged best reporter of the news; radio theater and an Open Letter to the American People were considered the outstanding dramas; and Let's Pretend was voted the outstanding children's program.

"America's Town Meeting of the Air," Blue Network show, was considered the most important educational program; and Lands of the Free over NBC received honorable mention in this category.

Dewey Scores Gain as Top Republican Choice for President

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., May 1—The lead of Governor Thomas E. Dewey as first preference of Republican voters in the [illegible] population for the presidential nomination has been increased from 45 per cent in February to 55 per cent today.

On the basis of a survey conducted since Wendell Willkie dropped out of the race, the New York governor now has a substantial lead over all other candidates in every section of the country.

This does not of course mean that his nomination is assured, since candidates are selected by convention delegates, not by the rank and file. Dewey had a substantial lead at this time four years ago. Yet in the final pre-convention poll he was passed by Willkie, the eventual convention choice.

Despite the fact that Willkie has bowed out of the race and has urged his followers to cease efforts in his behalf, the present survey shows that he still retains a sizeable following.

Among those preferring a Republican, here is the present standing of the men who have been most frequently talked of as possible Republican Party nominees. A comparison with findings in earlier surveys shows the trend of sentiment toward Dewey.

	Jan.	Feb.	Today
Dewey	42%	45%	55%
MacArthur	18	19	20
Bricker	8	7	9
Stassen	6	5	7
Willkie	23	21	7

With Willkie out of the running, General Douglass MacArthur is in second position. Governor John Bricker of Ohio, also has increased support among Republican voters since January.

Wait a minute, lady— Don't wash that pan!
YES, WE KNOW you've poured off the grease into the fat can, but take a look! See that greasy coating that still clings to the bottom and sides? Take a spoon and scrape! You'll probably get another whole tablespoon of precious fats, enough to make 5 machine-gun bullets! Or to make enough protective vaccine for 73 men!
NEVER WASH THE BROILING PAN, the roaster, or frying pan until you scrape them well. It doesn't matter if the grease is black or smelly; it's all urgently needed for munitions, battlefield medicines and other vital materials. Please do your share in this important job. Help our fighting men—and help yourself at the same time. You get 2 free red points and 4¢ for every pound of used fats you turn in.

AMERICAN SOLDIERS!

Remember those happy days when you stepped out with your best girl "going places and doing things"?

No matter

whether you two were enjoying a nice juicy steak at some tony restaurant or watching a thrilling movie with your favourite stars performing, or dancing to the lilt of a swing band you were happy.

WHAT IS LEFT OF ALL THIS!

Nothing! Nothing but days and nights of he heaviest fighting and for many of you

NOTHING BUT A PLAIN WOODEN CROSS IN FOREIGN SOIL!

MARION SOLDIER HELPS NELSON EDDY ON TOUR

Sgt. A. I. Hinklin Assists Singer in Tour of Iran.

The job of transporting Nelson Eddy while he was on tour in his area fell to a Marion service man. Staff Sgt. A. I. Hinklin, who is with a railroad operation battalion in Iran. The "Hollywood songbird," Sgt. Hinklin stated, pleased "the boys here about as well as any of the USO shows we have."

As the letter was being written the natives in the village were practicing for a three-day celebration of New Year's 1323 according to their calendar. The celebration was for natives only and it would mean death to any other than their own people who crashed the party.

In and Around Marion

Item of Convenience

Most people vaguely know that there is a peculiar little holder just to the right of the door to the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. but we wonder if they know it holds little envelopes that may be used when you wish to pay your bill after the office is closed.

Posture Week

National posture week is supposed to come around before long but so few think about proper posture. There is a certain employer downtown who disregards all rules of posture and twines himself into the queerest patterns. One of his favorites and apparently the most comfortable one is when he sits practically on the back of his neck with one or both feet hooked over the chair seat. It becomes more amazing when he answers a telephone and has to juggle a cigaret around so he can write something down. Some day he is going to have to be untangled.

Follow Ault Pattern

Now that little tots are allowed to play outside more you can have a ringside seat on just how your own house and family is managed. Little ones are quite adept at mimicking older people and if you see your small daughter screeching about some insignificant act or find the young master of the menage bawling out his play-wife, just to [illegible] and if you do that, now you know how it looks.

More Signs

From time to time signs pop up which are supposed to help the public. Wonder why there are no signs to hang on a parking meter while you go for a nickel? And ladies would just love to know where those shoes now are being purchased. If some kind of a sign giving that information could be taken somewhere it would be a big help.

Not Really a Camp

Service mail brings a number of interesting little sidelights and notes of lighter vein besides news from the boys into the day's routine. The history of a certain Marion county village was called upon not long ago to answer the question of one seaman who had gotten the address of a young lady through greeting cards a youth group sent a number of men at Norfolk, Va. The seaman wrote to the lady, "Green Camp—what kind of a camp are you in?" Incidentally this was one of about 12 letters received by the young woman from the group of men reached. Easter cards were sent to men whose names were furnished by request by Lt. J. B. Holloway, chaplain at Norfolk.

Effect of a Letter

A certain lieutenant who left this country in January, traveled through various parts of North Africa and came to a halt at Anzio received his first mail from home recently and wrote back that he "let out such a warwhoop of joy that the Jerries started popping off with ammunition again" but that he didn't care, he was so happy to hear from "the little woman."

Boy Job Bureau

An interesting sidelight on the employment situation is an item in the "Broadcaster," monthly Boy Scout paper distributed in the Harding Area which includes Marion, Morrow, Wyandot and Crawford counties. It seems that innumerable requests have flooded the Scout office here for boys to work. Wishing to keep the good turn idea working, Scout officials have announced to boys that a miniature employment agency will be set up within the Scout organization. Boys wanting yard work and similar odd jobs have been asked to register at the Scout office on East Church street.

A suggestion in the item states that the boys can do a service and at the same time earn money for summer camp which is not far off. Boys who register will be called in order of the date of registry when jobs are available.

GROUP DISCUSSES JUVENILE PROBLEM

Y Secretaries of District Meet in Marion.

Y. M. C. A. secretaries of the Northwest District of Ohio met Friday at the Marion Y to discuss juvenile delinquency and suggest ways for the Y to provide a remedy for it. Leader of the discussion was E. V. Donaldson, boys' work director of the Ohio-West Virginia office of the Y. M. C. A. Rev. J. R. Dallas, pastor of Oakland Evangelical church, conducted devotions.

Among those present were: A. T. Allen, visiting teacher for the Marion public schools, and E. N. Hale, secretary of the Marion Y. M. C. A. and president of the Northwest District secretaries' organization. The board of directors of the Marion Y. M. C. A. were guests at dinner Tuesday noon. Cities included in the Northwest Y district are Findlay, Bellevue, Bucyrus, Fostoria, Van Wert, Lima, Willard, Marion, Crestline, Mansfield and Ashland.

A CHICKEN KNOWS that an egg won't hatch unless you sit on it the proper length of time.

As with eggs, so with nest eggs.

The best nest egg in the world today is the War Bond. It's an incomparably safe investment. It pays $4 for every $3 you put up.

But...

In order to get that nice fat interest, you have to sit on a Bond for the proper length of time. 10 years to be exact.

You can get your money before that, any time after 60 days. But you won't get the full benefit. You lose the interest. You take your money out of the fight. You kill off savings that might be a blessing in days when money doesn't flow as freely as it does today.

Anybody See an Old Straw Man?

GOV. DEWEY'S forthright declaration in favor of international cooperation to secure lasting peace is virtually a duplicate of the position taken previously by Gov. Bricker. The two most likely candidates for the Republican presidential nomination reflecting the policy of the party, itself, as outlined by the declaration of its leaders at the Mackinac Island conference, no longer can be identified in any way with a difference of opinion over foreign policy. Whatever difference there is or may be is not partisan, but common to both parties.

Foreign policy has been eliminated as a campaign issue. Democrats will deny this stoutly, for an understandable reason, but unless Mr. Roosevelt carries them beyond anything now seen as possible, their party's position will be identical with that of the opposition. They no longer can look forward to making votes on the score that to vote against the party in power would be a vote of no-confidence in the conduct of foreign policy. The Democrats' other favorite talking point, the conduct of the war, likewise seems to be eliminated in ratio to proof that the war is being conducted by professionals in the field.

The legitimate election issue remains—the conduct of the affairs of the United States at home during the war. Gone forever are the straw men which could be set up and knocked down at will, but "Old Doctor New Deal" is hanging around and probably will stick to the finish in spite of Mr. Roosevelt's announcement a few months back that he had been asked never to darken the door again.

Unbecoming Conduct

WHILE indignation and recriminations are running high over the government's seizure of Montgomery Ward & Co. properties in Chicago, those who share the belief that this is no time for brickbat throwing on the home front are thinking of two things.

First, the use of soldiers to evict a company official from his office is no different in principle from the use of soldiers to evict employes; the unionists who think Sewell Avery, Montgomery Ward & Co. chairman, got what was coming to him had better remember the folly of cutting off their nose to spite their face.

Second, all parties concerned to date are guilty of conduct unbecoming mature men of presumed judgment responsible for keeping this country operating at peak efficiency, while millions of Americans face death and make heavy sacrifices for their country. There is enough fighting in Europe, Asia and the two great oceans without starting any more in Chicago. If the United States government has any belligerency to spare, the surplus should be sent overseas, not tried on its own citizens.

Skepticism and Isolationism

THE stigma of isolationism is still being burned into the scarred hides of midwesterners by those who never have understood what motivates the judgment of middle America. But the stigma has lost its sting.

The residents of middle America—the vast area between the seaboard states—are just as vitally concerned with the war and its outcome as the critics of their way of thinking. Their spokesmen—men like Gov. Bricker of Ohio—have expressed their determination to join with other governments of goodwill in post-war collaboration for international security. There is no more isolationism in the midwest, a term which easterners employ for everything west of the Hudson and east of Hollywood, than there is anywhere else.

But there still is something else, another ism which might be called a close relative. There is a healthy skepticism about the probable effects of some of the programs proposed for international security after the war if trusted to the tender mercies of political characters who think America can buy friendship the way the New Deal used public money to line up support at the polls.

The majority of Americans never turned against the principle of cooperative action for international security. They turned against the prospect of disillusionment and the actuality of disillusionment when they discovered how things had been done and were going to be done after World war I. Their so-called isolationism, which was really skepticism, was forced on them by the circumstances of the post-war period. It can be forced on them again in another post-war period if the same experience is duplicated. It is their desire to keep from having such a tragic recurrence that is behind the demand for more competence and less complications in all places where decisions are being made.

News Behind the News

While Congress Talks About Problems of Returning Soldiers, Jesse Jones Acts.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, May 1—Congress is moving to meet the problem of the returning soldier with at least one eye centered on the coming elections.

The legislators have, with various steps, now headed toward a distinct line of procedure — the discharge bonus of $100 to $300, a bigger one to be enacted later, the American Legion G.I. bill, the WAVES, WACs, etc., to share equally in loans up to $1,000 to buy homes, farms, businesses (no interest first year, three per cent thereafter), a year of schooling with the government paying up to $500 tuition, and $50 to $75 a month for living expenses, special U. S. employment service to look for jobs, and so on.

The inspiring notion is that nothing is too good for the soldiers; indeed, this valid conviction is shared by most people to such an extent that they would be glad to let returning soldiers run the country, as they should, having saved it.

Jesse Jones Acts

But quietly, without any additional expenditure and apparently without the congressional tendency to over-do it for political effect, Mr. Jesse Jones, reconstruction finance corporation, has opened a new realistic avenue of help. Business seers like Babson wisely say the future of this country depends on small business, the type that can be run by a man and wife, who preferably should live on the premises so as to cut down expenses of operation and the high cost of help.

This kind of business obviously adds to the structure of the country and is progressive, because it brings in taxes to the government and furnishes real economic impetus. You can see its economic effect, for instance, when measured against bonuses and free spending which require taxes on soldiers and their families (or more deficit spending being possible in view of the war debt.

Bonus Inflation

Also the problem now and for the immediate post-war period is inflation caused by the great sums of cash in the hands of the people with no goods to buy. The bonuses would add to this inflation stream.

The ideal time to pay the bonus from an economic standpoint would be several years hence when the pent-up demand for goods has been filled and a business decline is in prospect. The bonus, therefore, adds to taxes and economic difficulties, whereas loans to start a new small business would be national medicine for our difficulties.

Now Mr. Jones has been making loans for years that the banks would not take and he not only runs his RFC without net loss, but with some profit to cover administrative expenditures. This is proof enough that Mr. Jones is smarter than the bankers.

Character Loans

His whole business career was that of a borrower, generally trying to get money from banks, and apparently he operates not on the basis of how much collateral you have but on character of individuals and their business, (his average loan is only $33,000.)

So when Sergeant Carl W. Stomp- and Private Sol KuthRuff, fighting abroad, recently wrote a note asking post-war promise of a loan to finance a General Motors dealership, they received the prompt response:

"RFC will be glad to give favorable consideration....in any reasonable amount."

Another veteran made application for himself and wife for $6,200 to open a restaurant in Palo Alto, Calif. The local RFC agency recommended declination because the two had no working capital except $1,000 and intended to put the whole $7,200 in restaurant equipment. Headquarters here reversed the declination, made a two year loan (the bank of America taking 10 per cent), insisting only that the life insurance of the soldier be pledged for the loan.

Right Kind of Loans

As you can see from this, there are all kinds of lending and spending; good or bad, productive or inflationary, destructive or constructive. While congress argues, the RFC has proceeded with loans for use and is already doing what congress proposes to do, but in a sensible way to help the veteran, cure inflation, and make more business.

If congress goes its way fully and starts tossing money around to veterans—even those who have jobs lined up, or are already fabulously wealthy, just for the political effect of "doing something" for the veterans—the soldiers themselves may soon find these political bounties were not really to their own best interest as a whole or the country's, which they are to run.

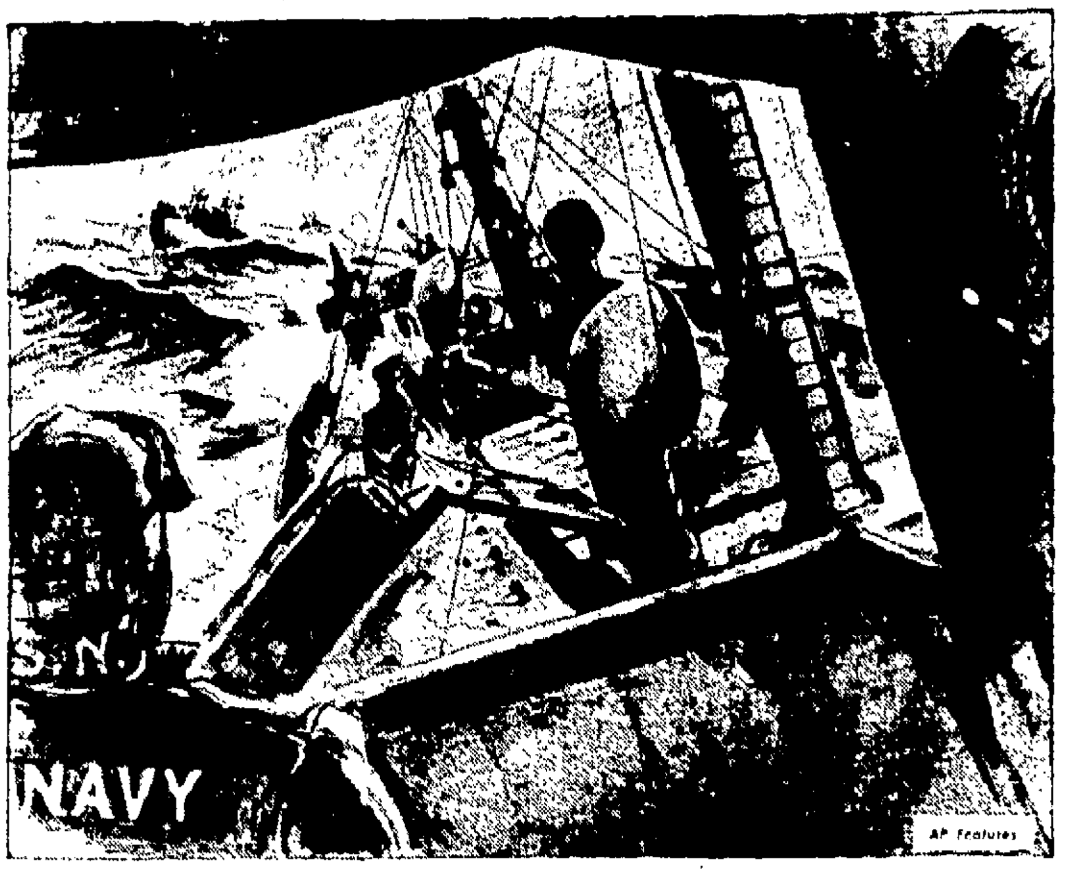
Artist Reports Battle with the Atlantic



AP Features

By The Associated Press

HOWELL DODD braced himself on the bridge of the S.S. "X," a 10,000-ton Liberty ship, to catch the north Atlantic in a white water mood.

Dodd, Associated Press Features artist on his way to sketch the warfronts, found that the crossing is more often a battle with the Atlantic than the battle of the Atlantic.

The SS. "X" pitched and rolled through two old-fashioned storms that made the war seem very far away and, for the moment, unimportant.

Standing on the port wing of the bridge, Dodd sketched the forward deck of the ship battened down for the crossing. Up ahead are two more Liberty ships wallowing in the swells. Not shown in the picture are other lines of freighters making up the convoy. The S.S. "X" is in position three of the eleventh line of the convoy.

The U. S. Navy signalman (left) on the bridge wing with Dodd was simply "Flags" to his mates.

Dodd suffered only slightly green gills during the crossing but the "X" shipped water five days running and suffered some damage to life boats. The emergency life rafts (one is shown in foreground) remained intact. Heavy seas stove in the armor plating in the bow and some gear was washed away. One iceberg was encountered.

Plan For Peace

200 Legal Minds Submit Their Ideas.

Every American will help pass on the question of participation in some form of organization to preserve world peace. It is essential that people know the ideas of world planners, know what is proposed, know the chances of success, the pitfalls to be avoided. Carnegie endowment for international peace is issuing the result of a two-year study by 200 scholars and experts in international law, the first detailed plan for an organization to prevent war. This is an analysis of the Carnegie, or 200-experts plan.

* * * *

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Writer.

FIRST detailed plan for an organization to prevent another World war reduces down to the familiar principles of the New England village town meeting but with some important differences.

The plan has been drawn by 200 American and Canadian experts on international law and is issued by Carnegie Endowment for International Peace. It may become one of the bases for post-war action.

Among its authors are John W. Davis and John Foster Dulles, both well known New York lawyers; Manley O. Hudson, Cambridge Mass., judge of the permanent court of international justice; U. S. Circuit Judge J. C. Hutcheson Jr., Houston; Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Robert H. Jackson; Roscoe Pound of Harvard; M. C. Sloss, former justice of California supreme court; Silas H. Strawn, Chicago, former president of American Bar association; Henry W. Toll, Denver, honorary president of Council of State Governments.

The plan proposes that the "community of states" (all the 37 governments recognized in 1937 and any new ones to be born) should meet at least once a year. This assembly, with an executive council to meet oftener, would air worries and complaints, suggest ways out, and find, by majority vote, means of international cooperation.

Its immediate objective would be to keep the peace. It also would be concerned, however, with underlying factors of social discontent — health, labor conditions, finance, communications.

UP TO this point, the plan sounds like the League of Nations, but this plan goes a step farther. It suggests that the world assembly mobilize an army to slap down any nation which points, or even shows signs of pointing, a gun.

It suggests, first, economic sanctions: That all peace-loving nations stop all business and trade with any would-be warmaker or group of warmakers.

If sanctions fail, it suggests the community of states call out armies of member nations to put down the marauder. It protects a victim nation (which would have to admit this army on its territory) against loss of territory by providing that the community must never call out just one nations army for such a mission.

It points out that the League of Nations was weak because it was unarmed.

Concerning armaments the plan says:

"Each state has a legal duty to conform to the limitations prescribed by the competent agency of the community of states, and to submit to supervision and control with respect to size and kind of armaments."

There is also the question, inferred, of how the central organization would set up its armed potentials—whether states in certain areas, which have not maintained important standing armies may have to do so.

The plan gives a new twist to the "international police force" idea. There is no suggestion for an "international army," as such. It would be, rather, an army thrown together, much as the United Nations armies have been thrown together since 1939, but not, it is to be hoped, as haltingly. The program would require a master mobilization plan, which would necessarily mean a master military section, perhaps the nucleus of an international army after all, though the plan makes no mention of this.

ON THE political side, the plan takes for granted that the United States will cooperate.

The proposal to use economic sanctions may seem optimistic. The world had a sorry experience when sanctions were voted against Italy when it invaded Ethiopia. To put it charitably, enforcement was half-hearted.

There is no sign that the profit motive has lost its allure; the current undercover battle for post-war air privileges is an example. But it could just be that a world assembly might muster enough strength behind a "stop thief" vote to make sanctions stick and to stop another war.

There is a special postscript for today's neutrals, as well as others, regarding that.

"No state," says the plan, "would be free to frustrate the effect of the community of states by relying upon the 19th century law of neutrality."

Sanctions, the army setup, cooperation — all things actually dependent in the long run on the spirit with which regulations are administered and abided by are left for the assembly to work out.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Field Marshal and Spring

FIELD Marshal Rommel, observing the spring flowers covering the fields at a point near the channel ports remarked, "How wonderful to think that beneath those flowers thousands of mines are concealed." — News item.

The Nazi Marshal's face grew bright —
A twinkle came into his eyes —
His mood grew, oh so gay and light
As he observed the flowers rise;
The fields stretched out in colors gay,
The buds illumined hill and glen;
The marshal loved the fields that way —
They helped to murder many men!

II

The tulip and the daffodils
Waved beautifully in the sun:
They warmed the valleys and the hills
As Rommel gazed and tapped his gun;
Exquisite are the days of spring —
How charming are the buttercups!"
He said, "They make me wish to sing
Of nature's charms . . . and those of Krupps!"

III

Beside the lake, beneath the trees,
He saw the flowers Wordsworth saw
And said, "It takes things such as these
The lofty moods of man to draw . . .
Continuous as each star that shines
And twinkles in the milky way
The posies hide my deadly mines
That wait to cripple and to slay!"

IV

The Marshal was in pensive mood —
A love of nature filled his soul:
He muttered, "Ah, the springtime's good! . . .
This ought to raise the war's death toll!
These buds make jocund company —
They dance and flutter in the breeze.
And this is what appeals to me—
They'll help to swell the casualties!"

V

"Oh, oft when in my tent I be
In vacant or in pensive mood
They flash upon that inward eye
Which is the bliss of solitude;
And then my heart with pleasure fills
And all the Nazi aims ring clearer
And I dance with the daffodils —
And Goebbels, Himmler and Der Fuehrer!"

We suppose the orders from Washington to Montgomery Ward will be mail orders.

Elmer Twitchell wonders whether the new catalogues will come out under the name of Roosevelt Montgomery or Washington & Ward.

It probably never occurred to Sewell Avery, head of Montgomery Ward that he might some day be putting in an order for a doghouse to be shipped from Washington.

More than three million dollars passed through the betting window at Jamaica Saturday. This is a new world record, made at one of the lesser New York tracks. And yet the idea of helping to pay for the war by a national lottery continues to languish!

The 30 per cent tax on bills at cabarets and night clubs is reported as closing hundreds of places and throwing thousands of entertainers out of work. They are now sharing with the customers the lament, "It's a struggle for us to get enough to eat."

Military Expert

By Truman Twill

Now, professor, a little martial music, please, while Twitter Twill steps out of character.

The whole world is panting from the top of its lungs, waiting for Armageddon to happen. Military experts at a dime a dozen have it all doped out. They will tell you at the drop of a hat just what will happen and where.

There is that strange silence which falls over the earth just before cyclones strike—the silence that reaches clear through everything else to the fundamental instincts of animals and makes them scurry for cover.

Something terrific is going to happen, all right, but the experts could be wrong. We mean the others experts, professor—and how about putting a little more snap into that martial music. We don't want the audience to walk out on us, maestro.

The three spokesmen for the three big powers on our side are somewhere at large. We don't know where. We don't even know where Mr. Roosevelt is spending that vacation. They say Mr. Churchill was seen in the house of commons this week, but nobody has seen good old Uncle Joe Stalin. And the Russians insist there's nothing much stirring at the front, in spite of what the Germans say.

Things in Italy have simmered down to pot-shooting. The only big noise in the war right now is made by the big bombs splattering down on German-held Europe and Japanese-held Oceania. But Japan is another story.

We are talking about Germany, professor, and take the chorus again. This won't go on much longer. Hitler and Mussolini are reported to be together down around the Brenner Pass. A little faster, professor.

Could it be that the German generals, the gents who hold the ultimate power in their army-ridden country, have sized up the prospects of the Russians crashing through from the east, the British and Americans crashing through from the west, the Free French from the south, the captive populations rising up from within and are exploring — somewhere with some spokesmen for the other side—the possibility of unconditional surrender without letting the war roar into the last alley in Berlin? And that Hitler and Mussolini are trying to figure out where to find "a better ole"?

You see, professor, there could be unconditional surrender without unconditional extermination. And now let's get out of here, p-l-ease, before the real experts close in and tear us to ribbons. Those fellows have a monopoly on [illegible]. Bring along the bull fiddle, old pal. We can hide in it till this thing blows over.

So They Say—

If people realize that for every ton of bombs dropped on Berlin two tons of gasoline are required to get it there, we will have less trouble getting public cooperation in saving gas.—Col. Bryan Houston, deputy OPA administrator.

The temper and heroism of Japanese Christians came home to me when I saw them risking their safety to share their limited food supply with us over eight long months. Christ was not repatriated on the Gripsholm. He is still out there.—Dr. William Axling, Baptist missionary.

Unless we clearly define what we mean by "the duration," we may suddenly wake up and discover that the wartime powers of the executive will go on for years.—Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire.

We are now producing enough to provide every family in the United States with an income of $5,000 a year. We have demonstrated beyond doubt that we have it within our power to abolish poverty.—Prof. Clair Wilcox of Swarthmore college.

PEACE PLAN

The plan is careful to leave elbow room for nations which are self-conscious about "sovereign rights."

It names only one situation under which the assembly could interfere with a nation on its home territory, that is, when a nation is permitting what looks like preparation for war.

JUST how do you use an army against an aggressor or would-be aggressor? And how do you use an army against a radio propaganda system, or even decide when a radio program ceases to become factual and becomes an incitement to war?

The plan states, in this regard, that acceptable definitions will have to be found, inferring, correctly, that the first thing to be defined will be the word "war" itself.

As for the setup, all nations would be taken in as soon as possible, thereby putting Germany on an equal footing with its victims.

Blocs will remain, and there seems every likelihood that Germany would be outvoted on any unpalatable new aggrandizement schemes, regardless of what intimidation or cajolery it might use in an effort to form a bloc of its own.

For more civilized governments the plan provides peaceful means to settle disputes. Any country which believes its rights are being stepped on could apply to the Permanent Court of International Justice, which already has settled 61 such disputes, and would be incorporated in the new system.

If the disputants accept the court's ruling there is no need for the international army. But the thought of that army, just at the end of a long-distance phone, should lend new weight to the court's decision.

THIS program meets most of the worries of those who are opposing various "United States of Europe" plans. They fear that Germany's industrial strength in a purely European group would shortly dominate the continent and, without a gun fired, conquer the continent through the countinghouse door.

Prospects for European federation are outside the Carnegie plan picture.

As for the proposed assembly, there is always the possibility of two almost equally powerful blocs being formed, much as the slavery and abolitionist blocs led to the American Civil war.

However, recent history shows that the world is slow to choose sides for a war. Supposing this "community of states" had existed when Italy grabbed Ethiopia, or when Japan grabbed Manchuria? These incidents could have been stopped by an international army, making it doubtful that Germany would have had the temerity to start its own grabbing in 1939.

There is no way of knowing, or even guessing, whether such a plan would work, or whether it even will be adopted. Like all the plans anyone can devise, it would depend on the goodwill of the participants, on whether the nations have discovered any new wisdom, in "we must all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

TRUCKMAN—SPARE THAT TIRE!
Truck tires are scarce today . . . so it's just plain common sense to look after them better now than ever before. Drivers can help by "sparing their tires" from unnecessary jolts against curbs, ruts and chuck holes and by keeping speed down on the open road. Maintenance men can help by keeping proper air pressures and having repairs made in time and we can help with "U.S." Transportation Maintenance—the plan that truck operators everywhere find is saving truck tire miles and cutting tire costs. See us for full details today.

Three Minor Fires In City Over Week-End

Marion firemen answered three alarms over the week-end. The first at 1:07 p. m. Saturday resulted when a short circuit in wiring of a car owned by Donald Lanum of near Waldo caused a fire while the car was parked on South Prospect near the Frank Bros. Co. store. It was answered in the chief's car and damage was about $2.

Second alarm was at 2:33 p. m. Saturday when sparks ignited the roof of a store owned by J. A. Haubert of 497 Toledo avenue. Quad unit from Central station made the run and damage was estimated at about $5.

Sparks from a bonfire resulted in a grass fire yesterday at 1:57 p. m. in the rear of 994 West Center street. Firemen from West Center street station answered the call. No loss was reported.

THOMAS E. DRAKE OF PROSPECT DIES

Retired Undertaker Stricken; Rites Set Wednesday.

Special to The Star

PROSPECT, May 1—Thomas E. Drake, 77, retired undertaker of Prospect, died at his home here at 10 50 p. m. yesterday. He suffered from a heart ailment.

Born July 4, 1866 six miles south of Marion on the Waldo pike, he was a son of Daniel Webster Drake and Elizabeth Windsor Drake. His wife, Mrs. Eva Long Drake, died Nov. 15, 1934. Jan 23, 1900 he bought the Charles Groll funeral parlor here and was in the undertaking business until October, 1940, when he sold to Fred W. Gehm because of his failing health. He operated a furniture store in connection with the funeral home business. He was a member of the Prospect Baptist church and of the following organizations: Masonic Lodge No. 444 at Prospect, Order of Eastern Star No. 69, Prospect, Marion Kadgar Grotto, Knights of Pythias and of the Ohio State and Marion County Funeral Directors associations. For many years he played a tuba in several Marion county bands.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss Erma Louise Drake at home a step-son, Harry Curl of Marion, a brother, Daniel Drake of Ashley and two nieces and a nephew of Columbus.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 2 30 p. m. at the home on North Elm street. Burial will be in Prospect cemetery. Friends may call at the home after 7 tonight.

Sign of Conserved Nazi Air Strength Seen Over Berlin

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

One of the most significant developments of a week-end of terrific allied bombing of Hitlerdom was the reappearance of German fighter planes in force to defend Berlin against another devastating attack by our American air fleet.

For a long time the Luftwaffe's fighter defense has been comparatively weak, giving rise to the belief among observers that the Nazis were conserving their waning strength against the day of invasion. We now seem to have confirmation of this.

One of our main objectives in the round-the-clock bombing of the continent has been to render Hitler's air force impotent, and certainly it has suffered terrible wounds. Still, it's clear that the Luftwaffe isn't yet knocked out, although it long has fallen far short of Marshal Herman Goering's arrogant claim that it never would permit an enmy bomb to fall on German territory.

Just what Hitler has been able to save up for D-day is speculation. The point is, however, that he may have sufficient reserves so that we shall see some of the greatest air battles yet fought when the showdown comes.

Significant Signs

The fact that the fuehrer is beginning to draw on his precious reserve is recognition that the invasion is imminent. He can't afford to depend entirely on anti-aircraft guns to defend his vital communications which now are being ripped to shreds.

One of Hitler's tough problems is to guess when the full fury of the storm will break, so as to make the most of his defenses in all categories. Probably the only thing he is sure of is that it can come at any time and that he has got to stand at alert from now on.

When our Yankee bombers and fighters winged their way across the English channel this morning, they were starting the seventeenth straight day of the intensified Allied attack. In the month which has just closed the Anglo-American forces have unleashed 10,000 tons of bombs on Hitlerian territory.

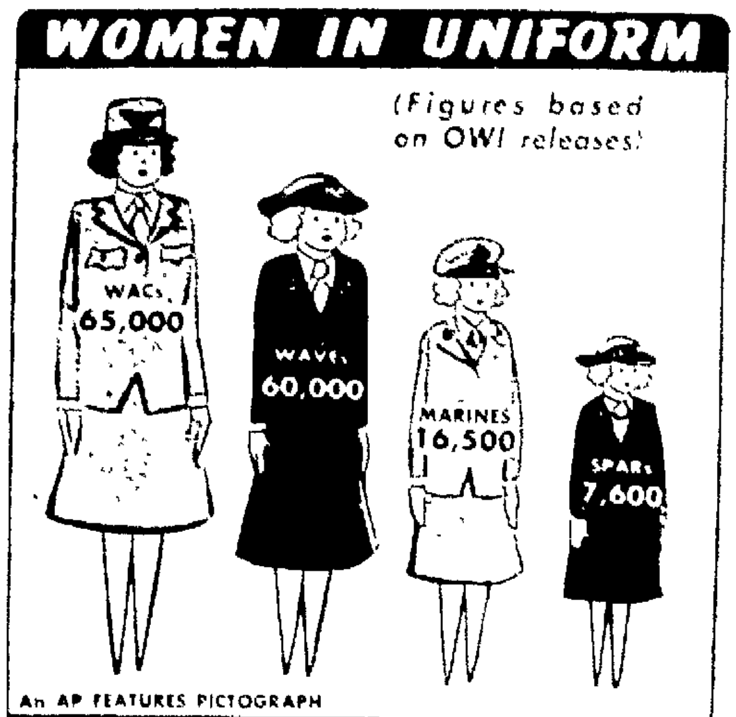
Not at Peak

Despite this frightful weight of bombing, it surely hasn't reached its full intensity. I believe we yet are to see a display of allied aerial striking power which will stagger the world. What's going on now is fairly mild compared with what is still to come, especially on D-day itself.

While the western allies are thus busy with their spade-work, performing the welcome task of digging Hitler's grave, Marshal Stalin signals from Moscow an indication that the Red armies also are girding themselves for simultaneous offensives which will put the Nazi gangster between two mighty mill-stones.

"There can be no doubt," says Stalin, "that only a combined blow such as this will be able finally to crush Hitlerite Germany."

The recent lull in some sectors of the Russian front is explained by the Moscow newspaper Izvestia as due to the weather and to regrouping of the Red forces. Undoubtedly the greatly extended Russian communications also have had to be overhauled to get ready for further sustained effort which will be calculated to run through the summer. However, it's expected that the Muscovites will strike simultaneously with, or soon after, the western Allies get into action.



RESUME WARD LEGAL BATTLE

President's Seizure Order Defended by Biddle as Wartime Necessity.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1—The legal battle over government seizure of the Chicago properties of Montgomery Ward & Company was resumed in federal court today, when Attorney General Francis Biddle declared it was President Roosevelt's duty to order the property placed under federal control to prevent a spread of labor troubles during the war.

The attorney general told Judge William H. Holly the President's seizure order was not based on the type of goods handled by the company … and metal and … but was motivated by a desire to halt the threatened … of a labor controversy.

Biddle … in support of his … for an injunction to prohibit Ward executives from interfering with federal operation of the … He obtained a temporary restraining order to that effect late last Thursday night, and the company's counsel filed a motion to dissolve it on grounds the seizure was unconstitutional and without legal authority.

Biddle … he sought to … government possession of the … must be respected.

Biddle stated the firm handled hay … corn and cotton planters and other kinds of farm equipment and added "All needed for growing food for the army … essential to war."

After hearing Biddle, the judge continued the hearing until this afternoon. The litigation was watched throughout the nation as a test of the government's power to … over facilities … by their owners.

A federal operating manager took possession of the plant last Wednesday after Sewell Avery, chief executive officer of the company, refused to accede to orders from the White House and the war labor board to extend a contract with a CIO union.

If the court should quash the restraining order against Ward interference with government management, the way would be opened for (1) A company suit to eject the government operators (2) The return of Avery to the headquarters of a concern which reaches into every state in the nation.

Both union and company officials agreed Saturday night in a hearing before Samuel H. Jaffee, national labor relations board trial examiner, to a collective bargaining election to determine union representation. The hearing will continue tomorrow on whether the employes shall vote as a single unit or in several divisions. John Barr company counsel, and Francis Heisler, union attorney, stipulated that an election should be held on or before June 7, if the NLRB requires it.

The government took over operation of the plant last Wednesday after Sewell Avery, board chairman, refused to comply with the war labor board directive and President Roosevelt's request to extend the company's contract with the CIO united mail order, warehouse and retail employes union, until the representation question could be solved. In refusing to continue the contract Avery contended the union no longer represents the majority of the 5,500 employes of the Chicago plant.

Widow Is Mother of Siamese Twins

By The Associated Press

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa., May 1—Siamese twins were born here yesterday to a 21-year-old widow. The children and mother were reported in good condition today.

"Cute little blonde girls," a nurse said. But the attending physician reported they never would walk; that one showed signs of … that they never could be separated, that if one died, the other would follow within a few hours — possibly minutes.

… of the mother, Mrs. Mary Sheets, … of the birth. Her husband, Harold, a war plant worker, was killed in a motorcycle accident two months ago.

The girls weigh 12 pounds, are joined together at the pelvis, have a single alimentary tract, and their inner legs are joined together, terminating in a single foot with only one toe. The other legs, torsos and heads are perfectly formed.

One child is much smaller than the other. It was in the smaller one that … was detected.

Opera Week Opens in Cleveland Tonite

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, May 1 — The Metropolitan Opera company's 19th annual Cleveland spring festival opens in a splash of color and brilliance tonight with the presentation of Jacques Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffmann."

The colorful scenery for the "Tales" was bought with a $10,000 gift from the Northern Ohio Opera association, indicative of the fantasy's recurrent popularity among radio audiences. The met's new soprano, Patrice Munsel, makes her first Cleveland appearance in a cast that includes Helen Jepson, Eleanor Steber, Ezio Pinza and John Gurney. Sir Thomas Beecham conducts the orchestra.

Eight operas, seven of which have been assured capacity audiences, will be presented during the week. Saturday the weekly Metropolitan radio broadcast is scheduled from Cleveland, with a presentation of Georges Bizet's "Carmen." Lily Djanel will sing the role of the saucy Spanish maid, supported by Licia Albanese, Thelma Votipka and Raoul Tobin.

Bargain Tax Rates for Big Families Receive Support from Senate Fathers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—Bargain tax rates for big families picked up some fatherly support in the senate today, along with suggestions that even more should be done to encourage an increase in population.

The new simplification measure which has been promised … congressional action, would cut the tax bills for large families by allowing a flat $500 exemption on every member of the family. The current deduction for each child is $350. By the same token, the new measure would increase tax liabilities for childless couples.

"I say that in view of the high cost of living, the high cost of bringing up children, the deduction should be even more," said Senator Maybank (D-SC). "It never was enough."

Senators Ferguson (R-Mich) and Downey (D-Calif) both expressed doubt there would be much inducement in the measure as it stands to increase the birth rate.

"The trouble is the cost of children always has been more than the amount parents can save on tax exemptions," Ferguson said.

Downey, who has five children, himself agreed. But he said it would be fine if the exemption … lead to bigger families, "because we Americans are a declining population."

A provision in the new bill for … deduction for children to continue as long as they are in college instead of stopping … when they become 18, won hearty indorsement from both Downey and Senator Chandler (D-Ky).

"The … thing we ever did," said Chandler, "was to stop the exemption just when children go off to school, when they cost the most. I would favor an even larger deduction."

Senator Shipstead (R-Minn) pondered the old question of why American parents don't have more children and came up with what he called a partial explanation: "Too many women would rather work and make more money, than raise a family."

STATE OFFICERS OF NAVY CLUB NAMED

Two from Marion Elected at Executive Session Here.

Officers of the Ohio Squadron of Navy club were elected yesterday when the Marion club was host to an all-day meeting of the state organization's executive staff Sunday. Marion members elected included Mrs Evelyn Reynolds who will serve her sixth term as state paymaster and Arthur L. Watt, named hips-writer. Other staff officers are Floyd A Morgan of Mechanicsburg, reelected as state commandant, Moris Goldman of Struthers, senior executive officer, Robert Costell of Akron, junior executive officer; John L. Zimmerman of Springfield, judge advocate; George Romacher of Akron, chaplain; Harry V. Ostot of Lima, master-at-arms; Dominic Rossi of Cleveland, historian.

The meeting started at 10 a m. Several changes in the state by-laws were made during the morning session. A rehabilitation program for naval veterans of World War II was discussed with special emphasis on the effect of such a program regarding state and local clubs. "Rehabilitation" will be the theme of the National convention to be held in Kenosha, Wis., on June 2, 3 and 4.

It was decided, due to wartime restrictions, that a state convention would not be held this year. Date for the next staff meeting was set for October.

87th Anniversary Of Addison Bain Marked at Dinner

A birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Addison Bain of 182 Wallace street Sunday was in honor of the 87th birthday anniversary of Mr. Bain, which is Tuesday, May 2. Present for the occasion were brothers, sisters and close family friends of the celebrant who annually join him to celebrate the anniversary.

Dinner was served from a large table centered with jonquils and the guests were seated at small tables arranged throughout the rooms. Mrs. Jennie Wilson, sister of Mr. Bain, spoke the invocation. The day was spent in reminiscing and socially, and in inspecting Mr. Bain's large collection of guns, scrapbooks and other of his hobbies. Mr. Bain presented Rebecca K. McCurdy daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCurdy, and Tommy Lehner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lehner, each with lifetime diaries bound in black leather and with their names engraved in gold and handmade wooden boxes. Mr. Bain received a number of gifts including flowers, cards and a large birthday cake.

"Uncle Addie" is primarily interested in children and his many hobbies include flowers, birds, fishing and other outdoor life. He is a member of the Marion township board of trustee.

CANDIDATES NOMINATED

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—The Socialist Labor party at its 21st annual convention yesterday nominated Edward A. Teichert, 40, a steelworker of Greensburg, Pa., for president of the United States, and Arla A. Albaugh, 38, an engraver of Massillon, O., for vice president. Both nominations were the unanimous choice of 47 delegates representing 21 states. The party claims an enrollment of 3,000 members and polled more than 12,000 votes in the 1940 presidential election.

"GI Bill of Rights" Receives Approval

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—The house veterans' legislation committee has decided to retain in the "GI bill of rights" all the general principles adopted by the senate, members said today, including unemployment allowance to which Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) had objected.

Meeting in executive session to consider minor amendments, the committee expected to report the bill to the house this afternoon or tomorrow. Chairman Sabath (D-Ill.) of the house rules committee has announced he will give the measure right of way when it reaches the floor.

The bill provides omnibus benefits for veterans of World war two, including compensation for unemployment periods during "adjustments," hospital facilities, loans for farms and homes and assistance in establishing businesses.

The unemployment compensation section has been modified in accordance with a compromise reached by proponents on the committee with Chairman Rankin and other dissident members. While it was said the "general principle" will remain the same, the nature of the amendments proposed was not made known.

Sponsored by the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars, the legislation has been before the house committee five weeks.

Reams and Pickrel in Marion Tonight

Frazier Reams of Toledo, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, and William G. Pickrel of Dayton, Democratic candidate for United States senator, are planning to be at a meeting of the Marion County Democratic club at party headquarters tonight, club officials reported today.

Both candidates have notified Harry V. Armstrong of LaRue, a candidate for state treasurer, that they planned to attend tonight's meeting in Marion. Both will speak.

Mr. Reams was scheduled to arrive in Marion this afternoon for a reception at Hotel Harding from 2 to 5 p. m.

AIR RAIDS

based planes which carried out yesterday's daylight operation included about 1,000 heavy American bombers and their fighter escorts. One heavy bomber, one medium bomber and four fighters of the attacking forces failed to return. Escort pilots shot down 18 German aircraft and destroyed a number of others on the ground while bomber crews bagged seven German planes.

Three American aerial task forces of Flying Fortresses and Liberators spearheaded Sunday's attacks directed against German airdromes, coastal defenses and railyards.

These daylight operations wound up a month which saw at least 100,000 tons of explosives and probably more dropped in Germany and occupied territory by aerial fleets operating from both Italian and British bases.

Month's Results

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle said American fighters and bomber gunners during heavy bomber missions by the U. S. Eighth air force in April knocked out more than 1,300 German fighters—a total "substantially more than the entire German aircraft production for the month."

In a broadcast to the United States last night, the Eighth air force commander placed the April losses of his command at 359 bombers and 141 fighters. The enemy fighter kill included more than 800 German planes blasted out of the sky in aerial combat and more than 500 destroyed on the ground.

(Doolittle's fighters apparently combined the total bag of his own (strategic) air forces and the U. S. Ninth (tactical) air force, which furnishes part of the fighter escort for nearly every one of the Eighth's raids, an unoffical check of communiques reported for April indicated. These war bulletins do not separate figures for the two air forces).

The RAF during April sent heavy bombers out from Britain on 13 nights and they flew a total of around 9,350 sorties at a cost of 215 four-engined bombers. The British bombers dumped more than 34,700 tons of explosives.

Ohioans in Pacific Area Receive Medals

By The Associated Press

GENERAL HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, April 22—(Delayed)—Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Allied air forces in the southwest Pacific, has awarded the air medal to:

Staff Sgt. Russell J. Johnson, Zanesville, O., Tech. Sgt. Donald R. Lange, Kelley's island, O., Tech. Sgt. Emmor B. Mullenhour, Lima, O.

The awards were made, the citation read, for "meritorious achievement while participating in sustained operational flight missions in the southwest Pacific area, during which hostile contact was probable and expected. These operations consisted of long range bombing missions against enemy airdromes and installations and attacks on enemy naval vessels and shipping. The courage and devotion to duty displayed during these flights are worthy of commendation."

OHIO STATE LEAGUE OPENING GAME SET FOR TOMORROW

Marion To Meet Lima on Lincoln Park Diamond.

After seven [illegible] umpire [illegible] tomorrow night [illegible] in one of three opening [illegible] of the 1944 season [illegible] Ohio State Class D league.

Final arrangements for the [illegible] wrapped into shape today by the Marion club [illegible] president, Municipal Judge W. [illegible] practice covering practically all phases of play was scheduled for Lincoln park today and Manager Grover Hartley expected to have his starting lineup and [illegible] of 20 players chosen by tonight.

Ceremonies preceding tomorrow night's inaugural are set to start at 6 o'clock. There will be [illegible] by the Harding High school Red and Black [illegible] the Eagles drum corps [illegible] of the National Anthem [illegible] the top of the centerfield flagpole. The game [illegible] the official [illegible] Mayor Harry Dowler [illegible] get under way at [illegible] business, a premature [illegible] of action. Receiver for Mayor Dowler will be Harry "Putty" Weller, a member of Marion's unofficial baseball "Hall of Fame."

The interest shown by Marionites in the local Ohio State league team in the last few weeks convinces club directors that a capacity crowd is a certainty for tomorrow night's game. There has been a large advance sale of tickets, approximately 2,500 having been distributed in the last week by high school boys who donated their services to the club. Seating capacity of the Lincoln grandstand is estimated at 1,500. With the addition of bleachers along the first and third base foul lines, a crowd of 2,000 might be accommodated. Tickets, at $1 apiece, will be on sale at Lincoln park at the game tomorrow night.

Other League Games

Sellouts are virtually assured for the other two Ohio State league openers tomorrow night which will pit Zanesville against Newark on the Newark White Field, and Springfield against Middletown at Springfield. These two openers will be played at night, being scheduled to start about 8 o'clock.

Umpires working the Marion-Lima game will be Frank Shabeck of Barberton and C. R. "Pete" Winner of Mansfield. Other umpire assignments for tomorrow night are Chief of Staff Art Meier and John F. Azzalo for the Zanesville-Newark game and Jack Norris and Allen Angelo for the Springfield-Middletown contest.

It is still a matter of speculation as to whether the Lincoln park grandstand will be completely repaired before game time tomorrow night. Several of the seats which have been broken in the last few years were repaired Sunday by members of the Marion Carpenters' Union who volunteered their services. The screen in front of the stand and the press box had not been fixed by yesterday but workmen were expected to erect a new screen today. This screen will completely cover the front of the stand, and the press box and possibly the players' dugouts. It was doubtful if there would be a roof on the stand by tomorrow night.

Work Done on Field

The Lincoln infield and outfield received some more treatment yesterday and today. A roller was to be applied today to smooth out the rough and bumpy inner garden. The outfield has been too muddy to allow any repair work the last few days.

As for the starting lineups tomorrow night, you probably know as well as Marion Manager Hartley. A total of 41 players participated in Sunday's workouts and intrasquad game, making it doubly difficult for Hartley to narrow the field down to 20 successful candidates. An Ohio State league team is permitted to carry a squad of 20 men for the first three weeks of the season but must decrease the number to 15 after that.

New Players Arrive

Hartley is fairly sure of placing on the team most, if not all, of the boys who arrived Saturday and Sunday from the Richmond, Va., team of the Class B Piedmont league and the Hornell, N. Y. club of the Class D Pony circuit. Six of these boys came on option and the rest were released outright by the two minor league teams. Those coming on option from the Richmond team were:

Warren L. Blunt, outfielder, 23 years old. He weighs 165 pounds and bats and throws right handed.

Joe Bellamy, catcher, 19 years old, bats and throws right. He weighs 161 and stands 5 feet seven.

Tom Hensby, left fielder, 22 years old, bats left and throws right handed. He weighs 168, is 5 feet 11.

Shortstop Bob McDonald, 21, of Jacksonville, Fla. He weighs 175, stands 5 feet 11, and tosses and swings from the right side.

Three of these boys, Bellamy, Hensby and McDonald [illegible] well in yesterday's intrasquad game, both at the plate and in the field. Blunt did not play yesterday because he had no uniform.

From the Hornell team [illegible] these hopefuls:

Bob Thackeray, 20 years old, of Crafton, Pa. He pitched for [illegible] seasons in the Pony league and toward the end of last year developed arm trouble. He pitched the first three innings of yesterday's game. He is the tallest among those trying out with his 6 feet 6 inches. He weighs 205 pounds. He's a right hander.

Howard Ammerman, pitcher of Richmond, Ind. He is 23, 6 feet 1, weighs 150, and throws and bats right handed.

Ed Rostowski, right fielder, 23, 5 feet 8½. Hits left-handed with potential power and throws right-handed.

Frank Anzalone, shortstop and second baseman. He is 18, 5 feet [illegible], and stocky [illegible] 155 pounds. He bats and throws righty.

Malcolm Gregory, first baseman from Long Beach, Cal. He weighs 170, is short for a first sacker 5 feet 8. Bats and throws right-handed.

Stanley White, outfielder 5 feet 8. Bats and throws right-handed.

George Whidden, third baseman from Titusville, Fla., he's 20, weighs 140, and bats and throws righty.

Ronald Lee Bucher who hit a home run in yesterday's game, is a second baseman. He's from Dayton, is 18 and bats right-handed and throws the same way.

Edward Bailey, pitcher from Mt. Pleasant, Pa. He weighs 147, is 5 feet 9, and 21 years old. A right-handed elbower.

More or less "free lance" boys coming in for Saturday and Sunday work outs were:

Milo Walter Fahse, shortstop and second baseman from Watertown, Minn. He weighs 160, hits consistently well as a right hander. A fast reliable fielder. Is a virtual cinch to get a berth on the squad. Last season, he played with Salt Lake City in the Class C Pioneer league.

Gerald Messner, a 20-year-old catcher from Akron. He weighs 165 and bats and throws right-handed.

Pitcher Dick Lydick of Findlay. He's 113, and a right-hander.

Max LeRoche, 21, of Findlay. He's an outfielder, bats and throws right handed. Stands 5 feet 8.

Carl William Hiborher, 17, of Toledo, 5 feet 10, 165 pounds. Right-hander.

Jerry McGrath, 145-pounder, 17 years old and a right-hander.

Paul Hammon of Green Camp. He plays second base, weighs 168.

Dick Crouser, 16, of Lakewood, weighs only 135, bats and throws right.

Carl Woodruff, 16, of Columbus. He weighs 145, bats left, one of the few southpaw batters on the squad.

Ray Kohn, one of the [illegible] Bill [illegible] He's [illegible]

Bob Schriner [illegible]

Edward Chies [illegible] is 6 feet [illegible]

Lima About Ready

Lima Manager "Rant" Mahr has his lineup almost set for tomorrow night, excepting the catcher and the pitcher. It's expected neither manager will allow his starting moundsman to go the entire route, because insufficient practice may result in sore arms from overwork. The Lima club, a farm of the St. Louis Cardinals, has a wealth of talent including Second Baseman Bob Paige of Detroit who played in the old Ohio State league in 1939 with Lima.

Scoreboard Brought Here

The scoreboard for Marion home games was brought from Findlay to Lincoln Park Sunday afternoon. Four club players did the hauling work in a truck donated by George Alber, club director. The scoreboard, approximately 16 feet by eight feet, will be placed in left center field. It is not electric.

MARION TEAM IN TWO PRACTICE GAMES AT PARK OVER WEEK-END

Hitters Have Field Day as 14-13, 14-3 Scores Are Chalked Up.

Marion's Ohio State leaguers continued their pre-season practice program with intrasquad games Saturday and Sunday afternoons at Lincoln Park. Yesterday's game, in which 31 team candidates played, resulted in a 14 to 3 victory of a team managed by Catcher Joe Bellamy over the Kohns outfit, coached by Receiver Ray Kohn. In Saturday's tilt, the [illegible] scored three runs in the top half of the ninth inning to edge the Kohns, 14 to 13, in a free-hitting, loosely-fielded contest.

Yesterday's game was deemed the more important of the two [illegible] as the entire list of club [illegible] was on hand for action. The Saturday game marked the first time the Marion team had [illegible] any competition [illegible] surprisingly large numbers of [illegible] attended the two games, about 100 being at Lincoln park Saturday and upward of 300 [illegible] Sunday's nine-inning [illegible] Both games were umpired by [illegible] Burton, LaRue High school football and basketball coach.

Hitting overshadowed fielding and pitching in both games. Feature of the pair of encounters was the distance hitting of Mike [illegible] right fielder for the Kohns Saturday, and Ronald Bucher, Bellamy's second baseman yesterday. [illegible] cleared the left field fence with a home run of well over 300 feet Saturday, and yesterday, Bucher clouted a four-bagger over the same fence with two men on base. Bucher's drive put his team into a 3 to 2 lead [illegible] the Kohns in the third inning. The Kohns had been leading, 2 to 0, up to that point, but could never thereafter gain the [illegible]

Following is the summary of yesterday's game and the score by innings of the Saturday game:

Bellamys—14 ... Kohns—3

[illegible]

Umpire: Burton of LaRue.

REDBIRDS WITHIN HALF GAME OF TOP

By The Associated Press

The Columbus Red Birds [illegible] victory string of [illegible] within a half game of first place in the American Association today, and [illegible] Toledo [illegible] Minneapolis [illegible] leading Brewers [illegible] Nick Cullop [illegible] series champions on top.

The Red Birds extended their streak yesterday [illegible] double [illegible] Indianapolis, 8 to 7 and 11 to 6 at Columbus.

Louisville and Toledo [illegible] twin bill, the Colonels copping the opener 6 to 4 and the Mud Hens coming back with a 6-2 [illegible] the finale.

Milwaukee's scheduled doubleheader at Minneapolis and Kansas City's at St. Paul were postponed on account of rain.

The Brewers have won 7 and lost one, while the Red Birds' [illegible] victory gave them a 7-2 record.

Toledo's split kept the Mud Hens in third spot.

Colley Quits Association To Head Ohio State Loop

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—Frank M. Colley resigned today as director of the press and radio bureau of the American Association, a position he has held for the last eight years.

Colley said he was resigning to devote his time to duties as acting president and secretary of the newly organized Ohio State Baseball league.

Mythology Dept:—President Harding A Baseball Player, Bill Stern Says

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

What's to be seen on the sports [illegible]

You've undoubtedly heard of Warren G. Harding the twenty-ninth president of the United States and Warren G. Harding the newspaperman, but you've never heard of Harding the professional baseball star unless you possess a prodigious imagination comparable to that of Bill Stern, generally rated as one of the country's ace sports broadcasters.

Any of Marion's older citizens will tell you Mr. Harding was an enthusiastic baseball fan. He was connected with the business department of the Marion team in the old Ohio State league about 1910. He closely followed the fortunes of major league teams and [illegible] played probably more interest in the game than any other Chief Executive who has thrown out the traditional "first ball" at the season opener of the Washington American league baseball club.

But when it comes to relating that Mr. Harding starred as a player, Mr. Stern is in a class by himself. According to a story in Stern's broadcast last Friday night, Mr. Harding was on his way to a successful career in the major leagues before he decided to give up the sport and take up politics. Stern said Harding was a standout with the "Springfield, Dayton and Toledo" minor league teams and his excellent play attracted the attention of numerous big league scouts.

When all this happened, we frankly don't know. Mr. Harding was always too busy with his newspaper work on the Marion Star or with politics to have any time for baseball playing, even with an amateur team. Local baseball fans, who followed the game at the turn of the century, [illegible] Mr. Harding [illegible] he might have played with independent teams in his [illegible] but he probably never even mentioned [illegible] making a career of the sport.

We would appreciate some indisputable facts from Stern concerning Mr. Harding's professional baseball [illegible] are necessary [illegible] that [illegible] some of the "tall yarns" he spun on his Friday night program.

HARTLEY AND SISLER

The [illegible] George Sisler, the former major league batting champion [illegible] in the pre-season [illegible] the Zanesville [illegible] brings to mind [illegible] when he was a rookie [illegible] with the St. Louis Browns. It was 1915 when Sisler [illegible] as a player [illegible] University of Michigan [illegible] Branch Rickey, then Browns manager. Sisler was promptly taken to St. Louis for a tryout. He did well as a hurler. Manager Grover Hartley of the current Marion team will tell you. Hartley ought to know, for he was Sisler's catcher in 1915 and 1917.

Yes, Sisler could pitch but he could hit much better, so he was given a try at first base. Just as the [illegible] of Babe Ruth from [illegible] pitcher into a great outfielder [illegible] one of the most famous [illegible] of magic [illegible] Sisler was [illegible] sent to the St. Louis [illegible] Hartley says. Sisler became [illegible] right off the bat and in a few seasons was hitting above .400 in the major leagues. What was [illegible] he never had any minor league experience.

AN ALL-DAY UNIFORM

Marion Manager Hartley may introduce a new style in clothes to Marion if he doesn't slow down his tempo as general manager, [illegible] and general [illegible] man. He might have set some sort of a record last Friday for wearing a baseball suit. He put on his Findlay uniform at [illegible] Friday morning and didn't take it off until almost midnight, a stretch of almost 16 hours. He was so intent on completing preparations for Tuesday's opener that he forgot to change into his civilian [illegible] when he went to the board of directors' meeting Friday night. Oh, the woes of a baseball manager!

STONER STARS FOR GALION

Bill Stoner of Galion High school may have his troubles in staying in the good graces of his coach, but he's still one of the best all-around athletes in the North Central Ohio conference. Bill, bowing out of his high school athletic career as a senior, has been doing some great [illegible] pitching with the Galion High nine. His first brilliant performance came against Upper Sandusky in the Orangemen's opening game as he hurled a one-hitter. That lone single was a fluke at that, just going beyond the reach of the second baseman. Against Ashland High last Thursday, Stoner was the winning pitcher even though he [illegible] hard but his batting featured his work that day. He got three hits in as many times up, including a homer. Take notice, all Ohio [illegible] managers. Stoner seems to be a natural and certainly would be an asset to any minor league club in these manpowerless [illegible]. The draft may catch up with him, though.

BOWLERS IN THE MONEY

Seven of the eight Marion teams entered in the state women's bowling tournament completed at Columbus a few weeks back placed in the money. A total of $230.50 in prize money was won by Marion teams and individuals. Jimmy Bull's Market was high team money winner with $50. University Cooler was second with $25 and W. T. Grant third with $18. Lillie Dalton and Pearl Snyder received $22 each for their 1149 total which won the doubles' title in Class B. Miss Dalton also was awarded $20 for her second place finish in all events in Class B.

DERBY SATURDAY TO BE "DIFFERENT"

By The Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, May 1 — The [illegible] atmosphere which [illegible] Matt Winn annually entwines around the Kentucky Derby will be [illegible] race [illegible] thinking he is seeing another [illegible] when some 15 three-year-old horses break from the barrier in the 70th running of the $75,000 turf classic at Churchill Downs Saturday.

There'll be the ever present [illegible] — probably 50,000 [illegible] ODT [illegible] and [illegible] street cars will be the chief mode of travel to the ancient oval.

But there the resemblance between this and any other derby becomes [illegible] coincidental.

Looking over the owners of the probable starters one finds only the familiar name of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable and Warren Wright's Calumet farm, providing, of course, the latter decides today to ship Pensive from Maryland for the big event.

All the other owners combined haven't been in racing as long as the first lady of the turf and not one of them ever had a starter in the Downs mile and one-quarter run for the roses.

Tribe Splits Two

Cleveland and Detroit split their bargain encounter before 38,940 — second largest crowd of the day — at Detroit. The Indians took the opener, 2 to 1, and the Tigers the nightcap, 4 to 2.

The Phillies went 14 innings to beat the Boston Braves, 2 to 1, in the first game of a twin bill before 30,392 at Philadelphia, but had to be content with a nine inning 2-2 tie in the second game when Butch Nieman socked a ninth-inning homer. Jim Tobin hurled one hitless inning to stretch his streak to 13 consecutive hitless frames.

Pittsburgh and Cincinnati also split a twin bill as did the Philadelphia Athletics and Boston Red Sox. Pittsburgh won the first game, 7-1, while the Reds took the nightcap, 4 to 1, behind Bucky Walters' three-hitter. Bob Johnson's homer gave the Red Sox a 3 to 2 triumph over the A's in the first game. The Mackmen snapped back to take the afterpiece, 3 to 1.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

By The Associated Press

Don Savage and Bud Metheny, Yankees—Savage drove in both runs in opener with single; Metheny made three hits and scored two runs in the nightcap as New York beat Washington twice.

Lou Boudreau, Indians, and Chuck Hostetler, Tigers—Boudreau made three hits, scored winning run and figured in three of team's four double plays in first; Hostetler's two-run single won second game.

LeRoy Schalk, White Sox and Don Gutteridge, Browns—Schalk hit double in tenth of opener to drive in winning run; Gutteridge drove in winning runs in second with double.

Bob Johnson, Red Sox and Lum Harris, Athletics—Johnson hit first homer of season to win first; Harris held Red Sox to nine scattered hits in nightcap to gain even split.

Phil Weintraub, Giants, and Howard Schultz, Dodgers—Weintraub drove in 11 runs with homer, triple and two doubles in first game; Schultz batted in three hits in final to give Brooks even split.

Nick Strincevich, Pirates, and Bucky Walters, Reds—Strincevich held hitters to six hits to win opener; Walters hurled his second three-hitter to gain even split for Reds.

Max Lanier and Stan Musial, Cardinals — Lanier hurled second shutout of season in first game; Musial hit homer with two on to give Redbirds double victory over Cubs.

Chet Covington, Phillies, and Elmer Nieman, Braves—Covington pitched three scoreless innings in relief to win 14-inning opener; Nieman hit homer in ninth to enable Braves to tie second game called because of curfew.

BOWLING RESULTS

National City Bank Team Moves Step Nearer Top in Commercial League.

National City Bank moved a game closer to first place in the Commercial bowling league as it was triumphant in two games of its three-line match with Boyd-Uncapher at the Palace Recreation Center Friday night. Omar Bakery now leads the bankers by a game after absorbing defeat twice at the hands of the third spot Alloy Cast Steel quintet. Schaffner-Denzer was shut out by the Ken Albert squad at the Marion Recreation Friday night but still maintained its hold on first position by a three-game margin.

Bill Barber toppled a 601 series and 215 to lead individual scoring in the City Circuit. Oberlander had a 589 series and Al Shull, Palace Recreation manager, a 234 game to share laurels in the Commercial league. Other 200-or-above scores in the City league were Barber 208, Hamilton 207, Babcock 201, Wolbert 200, Hinze 200, and R. Putman 200. Other high games in the Commercial circuit were Layman 201, Tanner 202, Ford 222, Hanovich 225, Shull 234, Winchell 210, Oberlander 213 and 216, and Hoffman 213.

Standings and individual three-game-series totals in the two Friday night leagues follow:

Important Pass Lost by Chinese

By The Associated Press

CHUNKING, May 1—Chinese field reports admitted today the fall of historic Hulao pass, ancient battleground guarding the way to Loyang in Honan province. This is a distinct blow to the Chinese.

An eight-day battle preceded loss of the pass, a small piece of flatland backed by steep mountains on three sides. It fronts the Yellow river north of the Lunghai railway, from which the Chinese had removed the tracks.

The invaders were reported to have begun an immediate fortification of the pass, rushing preparations for a possible drive on Loyang.

ICKES ANSWERED BY GOV. BRICKER

Says New Deal Still Don't Understand Japs.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—Gov. John W. Bricker asserted today the New Deal does not "understand the Japanese now anymore than in pre-Pearl Harbor days."

He replied to a statement by Interior Secretary Ickes Thursday accusing Bricker, Mayor Fiorella H. La Guardia of New York and Gov. Walter E. Edge of New Jersey of "racial discrimination" on the question of resettlement of Japanese-Americans.

"Mr. Ickes," Bricker said, "cannot by his personal abuse divert attention of the country from the poor handling of the Japanese situation before Pearl Harbor and handling the Japanese situation since that time. He evidently does not appreciate that we are at war with Japan and he expressed the typical New Deal philosophy that the local communities and the state should be ridden down regardless of their opinions by a bureaucratic Washington."

Ickes in a statement upholding policies of the war relocation authority which recently was made a part of his department, accused Bricker "not only of prejudice but of disregard of the facts" in a Los Angeles address. He quoted Bricker as saying that after the war each west coast community should determine for itself whether people of Japanese ancestry should be permitted to return to former homes, and of charging the WRA with releasing disloyal persons.

"The New Dealers," Bricker said in a statement, "do not understand the Japanese now any more than in pre-Pearl Harbor days when they tried a program of appeasement to handle the Japanese situation. They permitted the Japanese to fortify the mandated islands in violation of treaties and failed to take notice of Japanese planes which led to the disgraceful attack on Pearl Harbor, and took no steps to protect ourselves."

COURT KILLS TAX ON FEDERAL PROPERTY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—The supreme court today struck down, 7-2, an effort by a county to impose a tax on machinery placed by the federal government in a plant making large field guns for the Army.

The justice department said the question of state and local taxation involved in the case from Allegheny county, Pa., affected billions of dollars worth of war production machinery, equipment and buildings scattered throughout the country.

Justice Jackson delivered the majority opinion. Justices Roberts and Frankfurter dissented.

The majority held that the tax law of Pennsylvania "as interpreted and applied in this case violates the federal Constitution insofar as it purports to authorize taxation of the property interests of the United States in the machinery in the plant, or to use that interest to tax or to enhance the tax upon the government's bailee."

In his dissent, Frankfurter commented that "on the record before us, Pennsylvania has not challenged the implied immunity of the federal government from taxation nor has she sought to tax that which congress has said should be free from taxation."

The Mesta Machine company, Homestead, Pa., joined in the department's appeal against action by Allegheny county in imposing a real estate tax of $5,137 on machinery in the company's plant which was assessed by the county at $618,000.

The government claimed full ownership of the machinery and said it was leased to Mesta for $1 a year while it was being used to make guns. The Pennsylvania supreme court upheld the tax, finding it was not levied against the government but an independent contractor.

In its fight against the tax, the justice department contended federal government property is constitutionally immune from state and local taxation. A provision in the war department's contract with Mesta, the department said, would require reimbursement of the $5,713 to Mesta, with the result that "if the tax is valid, it will be the government which is out of pocket."

Fine Arts Day Wednesday

Program of Music, Hostesses in Colorful Costumes Await Visitors at Annual Exhibits.

The rhythmic meter of South American music will be heard in the fiesta room where tea will be served throughout the afternoon and evening for the annual community fine arts day observance, Wednesday at Hotel Harding. As in former years, the day will be sponsored by the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs of which Mrs. Carl W. Sawyer is president.

Reception Opens Country Club House for New Season

Formal opening of the season for members of the Marion Country club was held Sunday with a reception at the club house for members and their families. The official opening of the golf course itself is not scheduled until Wednesday although many players took advantage of the ideal weather to get a little practice before the season starts officially. A stag supper will feature the opening Wednesday.

The reception Sunday heralded a series of social activities planned for members and their families throughout the season. Light refreshments were served to approximately 175 guests. Presiding at the table were Mrs. F. S. McNeal, Mrs. Frank Foster, Mrs. W. A. Dennis, Mrs. Carl Danner, Mrs. Harry L. Dowler, Mrs. Walter Grunblatt, Mrs. E. G. Seifert, Mrs. Harold Grigsby and Mrs. R. T. Lewis.

Spring flowers decorated the club house for the event and an arrangement of magnolias with lighted tapers centering the table completed decorations. Miss Virginia Grover presented a program of piano music.

Mrs. Dixie Elchman, new manager of the club, was on hand to assist with the reception. Ben Miller will act as pro this season.

Plans have been announced for a golfers' breakfast to be served between 8 and 9:30 Sunday morning.

FIRE HITS LUMBER PILE AT GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, May 1—A fire that was confined to a pile of new lumber at the Perfection Steel Body company plant, here, Sunday afternoon, caused damage amounting to several hundred dollars.

Fire Chief H. F. Kile said men were burning rubbish near the lumber and, with the wind in the right direction, sparks were carried over to the pile of lumber in the factory yard. The fire department answered the call at 1:30 p. m.

Last July 4, a destructive fire at the plant levelled a new addition, causing damage of more than $50,000. Harry Cobey is president of the company.

Mrs. David Bower Of Upper Sandusky Dies

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, O., May 1—Funeral services for Mrs. David Bower, 71, who died Saturday at her home were held at 2 p. m. today at the home and at 2:30 at the John Stewart Methodist church with Rev. Ray M. Dibble officiating. Burial in Oak Hill cemetery south of Upper Sandusky.

GALION—Mr. and Mrs. Amity Baker of Galion are the parents of a son, born Saturday night, at Galion City hospital.

DEMOCRATS SPLIT ON SEIZURE PROBE

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 1—House Democrats split wide today over the proposal to investigate the Montgomery Ward plant seizure.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) indicated a "cooling off" process for congressional tempers was favored by the administration forces when he said no time had been set for house consideration of the resolution by Rep. Dewey (R-Ill) for the investigation.

Despite Rayburn's stand, some Democrats in the rules committee put steam behind a move to force a revision of the house code so Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) would be compelled to submit the Dewey resolution for immediate consideration.

Dewey meanwhile got set to challenge Sabath for a showdown when the house convened but adjournment was taken in seven minutes for the funeral of Navy Secretary Knox. He said he would make the demand tomorrow, instead.

Rep. Cox (D-Ga), ranking Democrat on the rules committee, accused Sabath of dilatory tactics. He and Rep. Smith (D-Va) sought signatures of a majority of the committee to force a special meeting tomorrow for action on a rule change which would require reporting of legislation by members favoriting it and permit three to call a meeting when the chairman refuses to call it.

The rules committee adopted the Dewey resolution last week. Sabath under present rules may withhold a report for three days and wait seven days after that before submitting it for general debate.

Explaining his position, Sabath said:

"Unnecessary haste is being exercised on the part of those trying to make a political issue of this and by those who believe it will hurt the President's cause."

Meanwhile Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the senate judiciary committee said a senate judiciary tee investigator who has been inquiring into the seizure of the Chicago plant will arrive in Washington Wednesday. He predicted prompt committee action.

Bucyrus Man And Daughter Injured

R. L. Gillian, 41, of Bucyrus and his daughter, Bertha 17, suffered cuts when the automobile which Gillian was driving crashed into a guard rail on a county road about three miles south of Upper Sandusky. Gillian was traveling on a county road east of its intersection with Route 23 where the county road curves and crosses the Sandusky river. Both Gillian and his daughter were taken to Bucyrus City hospital by the Lucas ambulance of Upper Sandusky. They were treated and released.

Rubies were the first gems to be made synthetically on a commercial scale.

enlisted ranks of the Navy, Coast Guard and Marines.

Lending the horse-drawn caisson on the two-mile march to Arlington cemetery was first, the escort commander, Rear Adm. L. E. Denfeld and his staff, followed by the Navy band, battalions of Marines, Bluejackets, coast guardsmen and the women's services, WAVES, SPARS and Marines.

Immediately following the military units, in the prescribed procession, came the clergy, then the 16 honorary pallbearers, the personal flag of the secretary, the caisson with body bearers marching smartly at its side, and the family and friends of Knox.

At the grave ceremonies were turned over almost entirely to the military services — a committal service read by Navy Chaplain S. W. Salisbury, a final volley fired by a bluejacket squad, and taps sounded by a navy bugler.

2 Killed as Pennsylvania Flyer Hits Wrecked Cars

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, May 1 — The engineer and fireman of the head locomotive of the Pennsylvania railroad's Jeffersonian were killed today when the fast New York-St. Louis passenger train plowed into a wrecked freight train a mile east of Trafford.

The dead were Walter Reklein, 52, of Portage, Pa., engineer, and R. Briggs, 27, of Altoona, Pa., fireman.

Both locomotives of the double-header train overturned, but neither the engineer nor fireman of the second was injured, the company reported. None of the 600 passengers on the 15-car train was hurt, the company said, and none of the cars was derailed or damaged.

STOCKS HAVE A SLOW DAY

Dealings Lag as May Arrives; Schenley, Up 2, About Only Strong Spot.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 1—Slow-going selectivity characterized today's first stock market session of May.

Dealings lagged from the start and the first hour's turnover of 73,000 shares was the smallest for that period this year. While gains of fractions to around 2 points were fairly well distributed near the fourth hour, numerous leaders were unchanged or in slightly lower ground.

Schenley was a strong spot, up about 2. In front occasionally were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, N. Y. Central, American Can, American Telephone and Anaconda. Intermittent laggards were Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Texas Co. and American Smelting.

SMALL LOSSES NOTED IN GRAIN MARKET

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, May 1—Small losses were recorded in the grain pits today as traders let the market drift for itself. Activity was light with grain men not inclined to participate heavily in the market while awaiting opening of the European invasion.

There was fairly liberal selling in December rye by commission houses. A report from Missouri said the wheat crop in that state had been reduced 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 bushels by floods. Scattered showers fell in the midwest, further delaying planting. After a slow start, corn bookings increased and totaled more than 100,000 bushels at the close.

FORESEES SCARCITY OF CANNED FOODS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1—Below-normal canned stocks, higher point values for many vegetables and fruits, and a slashed 1944 food production—that's the outlook Ohio State university crop experts gave today.

Their forecast followed last week's report of the Ohio Victory Garden council that there would be from 10 to 25 per cent fewer gardens planted this year.

Canned stocks in producers' warehouses are much below normal, and prospects of making up the shortages seem slim, Prof. H. D. Brown, expert on vegetable gardening and an authority on commercial growers' problems in Ohio, reported.

A communication from the war food administration in Washington indicated the reduced point values of some canned goods was only a temporary measure, since some goods had been made point-free to provide storage for other goods and to move them to a quick market.

SEDITION

numerous motions and petitions had held up the trial.

Before today's session opened Laughlin had filed on behalf of two defendants, Edward James Smythe and Robert Noble, another petition asking the court to quash the entire panel and stay all proceedings until the case had been referred to another judge.

Laughlin contended in this petition that the U. S. code requires that every district court judge reside in the district for which he is appointed, but that Justice Eicher resides in nearby Alexandria, Va.

Laughlin called this a "most serious question," contending that because of Justice Eicher's residence outside the district an acquittal might not be a bar to another prosecution.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I galvanized into action at Katie's summons. While I felt a little less like a feeble caricature of Atlas. If Hugh Grantland were on the [illegible] then the weight of the world was lifted from my shoulders. All I had to do was obey orders.

Yet was Hugh going to let himself be seen, when he had taken such elaborate precautions to remain hidden? I was still trying to answer that question as I rose and started at a [illegible] pace toward the attic, when Katie slipped behind me.

Claps Hand

"Missus Graham!" she whispered jubilantly, as we reached the upper floor, and she clapped my hand and ran beside me toward the attic stairs.

"Yes?" I whispered back.

"I hear something [illegible] coming," she said. "[illegible] Grantland he tell Jim to go down, get his shot gun all ready and stand in store room [illegible] you tell them, [illegible] Jeem, he gone now."

We were at the attic stairs now. Above us was blackness, and I was careful to keep the flashlight I carried turned low toward the floor, knowing that no light from it could possibly gleam through the carefully closed dark curtains of the attic.

I barely saved myself from shrieking as my flashlight fell upon the feet of a man standing just inside the chimney. Then I realized that it was Hugh, and as I reached him, I put out my hand blindly to him, and touched his sleeve.

"Hugh!" I whispered.

"Put out your flashlight," he whispered back, and as I obeyed, he grasped my arm firmly.

"Listen to me," he said crisply, "and use that marvelous memory of yours as you never used it before."

"I'm listening—and heeding," I whispered back.

New Development

"Then I'll talk fast," he said. "First, this new development may be a great break for me, but it may be a greater danger for you. I think these men that Shumway fears, and who are not the coast guard, will try to get into the house, masquerading as the coast guard.

"There will not be more than four," he went on, while I wondered at the certainty of his speech. "Two will stay outside as lookouts, one on one side of the house, one on the other. You have your little silencer pistol?"

"Yes," I said, for I had slipped it into my dress before I opened the night latch of the kitchen door at Shumway's pounding.

"Then take this, too." I felt the cold handle of a revolver slipped into my hand, guessed that it was an army automatic.

"Now, remember, when those men demand admittance you will be able to detect that they are not coast guards nor yet state troopers, for they will be far less courteous.

Instructions

"Get most of the lights out as if you were going to bed. When they knock, let them wait for a minute. Have Jim stationed in the shadows commanding the door on which they knock, and you stand where you can aim at them also. Remember, there'll be only two. Let Katie open the door and put on an act. Then, when they're in range, get the drop on them, make them drop their pistols on the floor, have Katie kick them out of reach, then make the men lie down on their faces with their hands behind their backs. Then have Katie tie their hands and feet together. After this, with a gun in his ribs, make one of them call out to the man outside to come in. Make him say 'Come in, quick!' and nothing else. When that man comes in, go through the same routine. Then get the other one, and fix him the same way. Finally blindfold every one of them so effectually that they cannot possibly see anything. Then come up and tell me.

"Do you understand everything?" he asked, and I whispered back "Yes," then added a question.

"If I can get the two Tigers [illegible] with their hand to [illegible] these men without [illegible] I may [illegible]"

"They are coming!" she [illegible].

"[illegible] good [illegible]"

"[illegible] use your own judgment," he said. "Now hurry back downstairs. But first—Katie, you are a good actress, I understand."

"Yessum," Katie forgot to giggle and was so impressed.

"Then do your best tonight. When the knocking comes, wait a little before you open the door. Then, when you undo the night chain, pretend to be frightened and [illegible] say you'll tell your husband. Then they'll tell you they are the law, and you keep stalling around until you see them right in line with your husband's shot gun and Mrs. Graham's revolver. Then say you'll call Mrs. Graham and step back out of range of the guns. Do you understand just what you're to do?"

I could not see Katie's face, but I knew that she was rolling her eyes in a mingling of ecstasy and fright. But her whisper was firm.

"Sure thing I know wot to do," she said, "and I do eet, hunh!"

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Lumbago

THAT VERY successful practitioner and long time friend of mine, Dr. Isaac Ritz, whom I meet nearly every noon at Grogan's, is a little miffed at me on account of what I said a week or so ago about lumbago. He said I spoke of it as if it were a minor ailment. He says the fact that lumbago allows you to get up and about your business and that it doesn't kill you outright are its greatest disadvantages. If death would end the agony it would be bearable. I think I forgot to mention he is in the throes of an attack himself in his own person.

Dr. Ritz is of the opinion that lumbago is an epidemic infectious disease, probably caused by a virus. And there is a great deal to support this view. It certainly sweeps over communities in epidemic form, usually in the spring. It is evidenced in its early stages by a fever, or a little headache, loss of appetite and all the prodromal symptoms of an infectious state.

To show its contagiousness, Dr. Ritz had an instance in his own practice of a married couple. The wife went to the Red Cross and associated with two of her sister workers who had lumbago. She came down with it 24 hours later and 24 hours after that her husband, who had been in perfect health, came down with an attack of pain in the back which put him to bed. Not only in my own home town where I know of 17 cases in the last few weeks, but my spy system has unearthed semblances of an epidemic in St. Louis, Chicago and Dallas this spring.

There is no reason why a virus should not get into the body through the digestive or respiratory systems and because it has an affinity for the lumbar muscles light there and cause trouble any more than there is why a virus, such as infantile paralysis, should enter by the same portals and light only in the nerve cells of the anterior horn of the spinal cord. It argues some kind of an affinity, chemical or biological, and there could be some such between the lumbar muscles and some other virus.

A similar analogy would apply to shingles: here it is now assumed in the best medical circles a virus is the cause: it enters the body and circulating in the blood picks out only the ganglia of one or more sensory nerves.

Lumbago is so named because it lights in the lumbar muscles. These are the very heavy and strong groups of muscles in the back, which attach to the spine and are involved in nearly every movement made by the body. That's why it hurts so much. You can't even roll over in bed without having the sore muscles creak and cry out.

As to treatment, every patient learns sooner or later, usually later, that time is the surest remedy. To the fellow who has just had lumbago a few days this seems very [illegible], but to the graduate of [illegible] standing it has at least the advantages of truth. There are innumerable drugs which are used for relief—the [illegible]—such as aspirin—[illegible] always been used for [illegible].

Dr. Ritz says the latest is to give a [illegible] of calcium gluconate in the vein. The directions say to give it every other day, but the [illegible] took one dose and it [illegible] him up so he stopped at [illegible] he preferred the disease to the remedy. He said he had hot flashes for 24 hours. But he's sort of [illegible] and others might not react that way.

To my mind this is the ideal condition for non-medical remedies. Grease the back every night with an ointment with a little camphor in it, and lie down on your face and have Mama put a flannel on top of it, and run an iron—just as hot as you can stand—over the sore places. And massage—here is the ideal spot for massage. If you can get a graduate of the Kellberg Institute of Stockholm he or she will take the kinks out of you.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

C. R.—What causes curvature of the spine? Can it be the result of infantile paralysis? Are there any exercises to cure it or ways to effect a cure?

Answer: Curvature of the spine comes from bad posture, sitting in wrong positions at school desks, etc. If infantile paralysis affects the spinal muscles the result may be a curvature of the spine and this is not uncommon. It can be corrected by exercises and orthopedic apparatus.
